Machinery As Well As Munitions To Go to Poland and Others

LONDON (CP)—The British government's decision to make an addition of £50,000,000 ($234,000,000) to £10,000,000 previously placed at the disposal of the Board of Trade for underwriting export transactions was considered today, justified on political rather than strictly business grounds.

Last year Britain extended a credit of £16,000,000 to Turkey, and this year one of $5,000,000 to Roumania. For this reason Poland was expected to be the first beneficiary of the government's new bill, which parliamentary circles expected to become law by August 4, when the summer recess begins.

Although the bill introduced in the commons yesterday did not specify the countries to receive credits, it was taken for granted that most of the new funds would go to nations to which British guarantees of protection have been given—Poland, Turkey, Roumania and Greece.

In Britain the government's action was endorsed in newspaper editorials on the ground that stronger allies are vital to the Empire's own national defence and that hitherto some, such as Roumania and Greece, had to rely on Germany for implements of war.

The procedure under the new bill would be for purchasing countries to give British firms promissory notes for goods bought. These notes would be acquired by the Board of Trade with money advanced by the treasury and would be held by the board. There also may be some outright loans.

FOR 15 YEARS

In most cases the purchases would be for munitions, raw materials and machinery for making arms and some aircraft. Part of the credits may run as long as 10 to 15 years and therefore interest charges will raise the total involved considerably above the amount indicated in the new bill. The Times of London, Independent, said editorially of the export credit bill "It gives the world concrete and constructive proof that the economic and financial strength of this country is no myth, and at no point whatever does it preclude or obstruct that expansion of general international trade which must always be one of the most important objects of peaceful policy."

"It goes without saying," the London Telegraph said, "that the rearming of Poland, Turkey, Roumania and Greece is a matter of vital importance to our own national defence. The greater the individual resistance they are able to put up against aggression, the greater is the moral and material strength of the peace front."

The Daily Herald, Labor, said: "The peace front must mobilize the whole of its economic power to support its purposes. Some of our fellow members of the front are comparatively poor countries. The great margin of economic power which the peace front fortunately enjoys or the axis comes first and foremost from

Fourth Day of Battle With Japanese And Manchukians

A.P. Man Sees Clash

TOKIO—An undercurrent of strain, perplexity and resignation ran through quiet services with which Japan commemorated Friday the second anniversary of the war with China.

The traditional moment of silence was observed at noon. Solemn services were conducted at all national shrines and Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako offered prayers at palace shrines for repose for the souls of the dead.

An atmosphere of great solemnity was heavy over the capital. The attitude of the people is one of "it cannot be helped." It implies resignation. Continued Chinese resistance causes perplexity among the Japanese. Since childhood they have heard their army is invincible.

It is explained that Soviet Russia, Great Britain and France are preventing the long-expected Chinese collapse. On all sides one hears: "We are fighting three or four nations. If only the third division powers would withdraw their assistance, China would collapse tomorrow."

GUNS IN DUEL

I was driven to cover by accurate Mongol fire while watching a steady artillery duel near the confluence of the Khalka and Kholstein (Holstein) Rivers. Approximately 14 miles away a continuous clatter of machine guns indicated the front lines around Nomonhan, with the Mongols apparently holding Noro height. This meant they had retreated some six miles of the 12 they previously had held.

The front stretches some nine miles along the Khalka, through an area to which both sides claim title. I listened to shells screaming overhead while watching four Japanese planes bomb the far side of Balshagol without retaliatory anti-aircraft fire or aerial action by the Mongols.

(A Japanese dispatch to Tokyo today said that in a new aerial encounter Japanese had downed 24 planes over Lake Bor and lost one. Previously they had reported shooting down 65 in two days.)

Earlier Mongol airplanes had raided some 35 miles east of the Khalka.

The productive capacity of British and French industry, and the strength of the two countries' banking systems.

"These loans are an economic counterpart to political and military agreements. They are, no less, barriers to aggression."

The Daily Express, Independent, criticized the scheme, warning that Britain's "allies" of today in the peace front will only be allies as long as they seem to expedient.

"We are to lend a hundred millions to our allies," the newspaper said. "Who are our allies? Canada, New Zealand, Newfoundland. But they are not getting the money. . . . We should lend money to the countries where the men of our race dwell."

It Looks Like a Good Week-end

"It looks very much like a good week-end," the weather man said this morning.

Although the staff of the Gonzales Hill meteorological observatory could make no definite prophecy for more than 48 hours ahead, a member said "It looks all right now."

The official forecast is for moderate to fresh southerly winds, with some cloud this evening, becoming warmer tomorrow.

No Precedent to Keep Street Cars

New Westminster Situation Dissimilar to That of Victoria, Council Told

New Westminster's action in securing provincial legislation covering a transportation scheme which did not meet with the support of municipal electors in an expression of opinion vote cannot be held as a precedent for Victoria to follow, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, informed the City Council in franchise committee today.

His written opinion was a reply to a request from the local street railwaymen's association asking that Victoria adopt the same policy as that followed by the Royal City in retaining street cars.

Prior to forming the opinion, Mr. Shaw communicated directly with New Westminster and secured copies of the petition and by-law.

"This statement shows the difference between the position in Victoria and that of New Westminster," Mr. Shaw wrote. "Victoria had power to enter the agreement with the B.C. Electric Ltd., if the votes were favorable, but New Westminster had no such power, and even if the necessary majority had been obtained there, they would still have had to ask for validating legislation. Under these circumstances, I cannot see how the New Westminster case can, in any way, be considered a precedent for Victoria making such an application. Of course, there is no doubt but that the Legislature could pass an effective validating act, but whether it would do so is a question no one can answer as it is a matter entirely in the discretion of Parliament."

The street railway men had asked that the City Council proceed with a renewal of the agreement with the B.C. Electric in spite of the fact the majority secured on a plebiscite for continued use of street cars was insufficient to make such a suggestion binding. When it failed, they cited the New Westminster case as a precedent to follow irrespective of the outcome of the vote.

LONG U.S. DEBATE ON NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A declaration which Senator Johnson, Republican, California, said was signed by 34 senators stated today the group would fight any change in the existing United States neutrality law "by every honorable and legitimate means at our command."

The statement was immediately interpreted as a threat to engage in a prolonged debate on administration neutrality proposals. Some senators said they considered it an open threat of filibuster.

The declaration said: "We are unalterably opposed to the repeal or modification of the present neutrality law prohibiting the sale or exportation of arms, munitions or implements of war to nations engaged in war."

The day when friends and relatives and members of the local patriotic association paraded with the China-bound recruits to the station amid the sounds of brass bands and crimson and white flags is gone. Now enthusiasm is forced and excitement has given place to weariness. The scenes at the station have become cold and meaningless.

Or station scenes of another kind. There is a heavy silence on the station platform and soldiers stand at rigid attention. Behind them are masses of people watching a train come to a stop. One by one, soldiers emerge from the cars. Each carries a white box, containing the ashes of a Japanese soldier killed in China.

A widow, accompanied by her other children, came to take the box that bore the name of her eldest son. When his name was called she stepped forward. The officer bowed, saluted and handed it to her. She held it in her arms for a moment as though it were an infant. Then her mouth opened in a soundless scream and she threw the box at the officer's head.

ADMITS CLEVELAND TORSO SLAYING

Bricklayer Confesses One of 12 Killings; Linked With Other

CLEVELAND (AP)—A brawny bricklayer confessed today, authorities announced, he hacked to death the third of Cleveland's 12 torso murder victims.

Sheriff Martin O. O'Donnell said the man, 72 and unmarried, also was definitely linked with the decapitation of the second victim.

O'Donnell said the man disclaimed connection with all but the third killing. The sheriff added: "We still have plenty to check."

Victim No. 3, a 42-year-old prostitute, Florence Polillo, was found dead January 23, 1936. No 2, Edward W. Andrassy, 28, was found decapitated September 20, 1935.

Organs of both these victims, as well as of one or two others, had been mutilated.

"Yes, I cut her up," O'Donnell quoted the heavily-muscled, unemployed former WPA worker, who once worked in a slaughterhouse, as saying.

"It took me three trips to dispose of her body. I took her head down to the foot of East 49th Street and threw it into the lake. Please don't send me to the electric chair."

KILLED AFTER FIGHT

The sheriff said the man, held without charge, told county authorities he killed Mrs. Polillo after a fight in his room.

The sheriff quoted the bricklayer as saying that Mrs. Polillo came to his room about 8 o'clock at night, attempted to borrow some money and several hours later struck at him with a butcher knife because he refused to loan her $3.

Fuse Found at Vancouver School As Blasts Traced

But Police Unable to Link It With Recent Series of Explosions

Search for Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—A seven-foot length of fuse was discovered in a light well of the Vancouver Technical School and turned over today to police investigating several mysterious east end bombings since Sunday.

The fuse was found by Noel Green, student.

Although officers said they had not connected finding of the fuse with blasts which wrecked a sewer pipe, a garage and street car tracks earlier in the week, they believed the discovery important as no material of this type is kept or used on the school premises.

Neither did they connect discovery of a cache of powder, 36 feet of fuse and a loaded revolver on the Kitsilano Indian Reserve with the east end blasts. But authorities intimated they were running down every possible clue.

Police discovered the cache after Chris Eder telephoned headquarters that he had found a revolver while picking up bark. The reserve borders False Creek in the Kitsilano residential district.

Detectives disclosed that although the type of fuse was the same as that used in each of the blasts, the powder was a different type.

As they continued their investigation this morning in connection with the blasts in the Grandview area, police recalled a week-old threat of a man to blow up a downtown building.

British Columbia, Royal Canadian Mounted and Vancouver city police are all watching near important structures in the Grandview district.

They inaugurated the search for the wanted man today when informed of the threat by an informant last night.

The informant has supplied police with an accurate description of the man who said he could get "all the dynamite I need," to blow up a building.

RELIEF STRIKE SPREADS IN U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—In what one labor leader termed a "fight to the finish" to force United States congressional reconsideration of the new Federal Relief Act, thousands of Works Progress Administration workers idled today, or prepared to walk off their jobs in protest against extension of laboring hours, despite a "take it or leave it" ultimatum from Washington.

Throughout the nation workers laid down their tools yesterday although in some sections skilled laborers resumed their tasks, fazed by Washington's order to return to work in five days or be fired, and by local warnings of no home relief for those who walked out.

The situation has been studied in connection particularly with the government's vessels which ply between Canadian and West Indies ports.

Ships of the Canadian National Steamships Line are those most directly concerned in the matter, and preliminary examinations have been made with a view to ensuring that, should it become necessary, the ships are capable of carrying a 4.7-inch or 6-inch gun.

Most of the merchantmen sailing under British registry have undergone minor alterations to enable the emplacement on board of anti-submarine guns. At the same time officers of the mercantile marine have had training in the handling of these weapons.

$49,200 Free Labor Available to City

Government Announces New Plans and Civic Centre Scheme Might Be Accepted

Victoria moved a financial step nearer its long-contemplated Civic Centre today, with an announcement by Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, that the B.C. and Ottawa governments would pay labor costs on municipal projects started before March 31, 1940.

The proposed centre, plans for which are ready, would cost around $125,000, labor charges amounting to about half the amount.

The governments will pay, however, only at the rate of $100 per head of families on relief in June of this year.

Last month, in Victoria, there were approximately 492 heads of families on relief, which means the governments would contribute to a Victoria project not more than $49,200.

This amount would be distributed, at regular labor rates among those working on the job, about 100 men in all.

OTHER CHARGES

The city would have to pay the remainder of the labor charges and the cost of supervision and materials.

At the last civic election the electorate was asked to express an opinion on the proposed civic centre and the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of it.

At the end of December the city asked for a $150,000 loan under the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act, but no satisfactory reply has ever been received, and since then definite plans have been in the air.

A committee of local businessmen has long discussed ways and means of providing Victoria with a Civic Centre to take care of large musical events, festivals and pageants and sports activities, and supply ice skating. A site has been reserved on Pandora Avenue for the proposed building.

The provincial relief administration office here, which is now advising all B.C. municipalities of details of the new agreement, feels a request for aid in constructing such a building in Victoria would be favorably received and granted by both governments.

TO GIVE $1,026,000

It is understood that $1,026,000 will be available from the two governments for municipal improvement projects.

"It is not the intention to grant assistance to municipalities to carry out work that should normally be undertaken by the municipality, but rather to assist in carrying out improvements that would otherwise be deferred for the next year or more, due to inability to provide the necessary funds," Mr. Pearson said.

The governments will pay for the whole direct labor costs as the projects are designed as an alternative to material aid, employment will be given only to those actually in receipt of material aid.

Where it is impossible, however, to obtain foremen, timekeepers, truckdrivers or teamsters from among those on relief, such key men may be selected from those who are unemployed or in necessary circumstances.

Works projects already being financed wholly or in part with monies provided by the Dominion, pursuant to the provisions of the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act of last year, will not be eligible for a contribution under the new agreement.

This means Nanaimo, which borrowed $200,000 from the federal government at 2 per cent for its water works program, will not receive labor aid for that project under the new plan.

The contracts, according to Dionne, involved use of the names and pictures of the quintuplets, the five famous children of Mr. and Mrs. Dionne.

Mr. Slaght said all contracts were either passed or rejected by the official guardian, Percy Wilson, including any contracts that Dr. Dafoe might have.

He declared Dionne was being made the tool of "subversive interests not concerned with the welfare of Canada." Counsel said "Mr. Dionne has ill-advised friends who inspired this despicable attack on Dr. Dafoe."

"I don't want to hear of any attacks on unknown people," Judge Plouffe declared.

Reports Agree On Bright Prairie Crop Outlook

July Improvement Over May Seldom Equalled, Says Bureau

OTTAWA (CP)—Spring wheat, coarse grains and pastures in the western provinces made excellent gains during June, and generally were in better condition at the end of the month than at the same date in any crop season in Canada since 1928, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Crops in the Maritime provinces failed to maintain the promising condition indicated at the end of May, while in Ontario and Quebec conditions, although slightly improved, continued somewhat below prospects on June 30 last year.

British Columbia crops made appreciable progress and were distinctly in better condition on June 30 this year than at the same time last year.

One of the best rainfalls on record materially enhanced crop prospects in the prairie provinces. The improvement on conditions at June 30 over those at May 31 has seldom been equalled in the history of prairie agriculture. At June 30 almost uniformly good to excellent crop conditions were in evidence across the three provinces.

Improvement in the outlook for the wheat crop was most striking in western Saskatchewan and in southern and central Alberta.

MUCH MONEY INVOLVED
TORONTO (CP)—S. H. Logan, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said today the Canadian west is having its best year in a decade.

"The western wheat situation looks like a 100 per cent crop this year," he said. "Moisture conditions are the best they have been in 10 years. Fields in Saskatchewan as bare as my blotter two years ago are flourishing today."

"The western farmer will get his money this year. The railroads and the Great Lakes transport people will get more money. It is going to help business all along the line."

SWANSON, U.S. NAVY SECRETARY, DIES
Veteran in Public Service of Republic Passes in 78th Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt announced today the death of Claude A. Swanson, Secretary of the United States navy, at the Rapidan Camp in Virginia.

Mr. Swanson, former governor and senator from Virginia and Secretary of the Navy since President Roosevelt took office in 1933, was 77. He had been in ill health for many months.

Swanson went from the chairmanship of the United States senate naval committee to the cabinet.

Behind the veteran official was 44 years of public service, which began with minor offices in Virginia, 12 years in the House of Representatives, then a term as governor of Virginia, to be followed by the beginning of his Senate term in 1910. He served in the Senate until named to the cabinet.

Included in his public activities was membership in the American delegation to the Geneva Disarmament Conference in 1932-33. There he advocated abandonment of the submarine as a naval weapon, declaring the underwater boats were "the assassins of the seas."

Mr. Swanson was a firm believer in international co-operation. After the world war he was one of the chief supporters of President Wilson's attempt to get the United States into the League of Nations. He also advocated American adherence to the World Court.

He was born at Swansenville, Va., March 31, 1862, the son of a tobacco planter. Working for his education, he graduated from the University of Virginia. He practiced law for a few years at Chatham, Va.

He was a ready speaker. He is survived by the widow and a stepson.

Study Arming of Canadian Ships

The situation has been studied in connection particularly with the government's vessels which ply between Canadian and West Indies ports.

Alaska Road Board At Burns Lake

Investigators Hear
Views of That B.C. Area
On Highway Route

VANDERHOOF, B.C. (CP) — After a brief session here, members of the Canadian commission investigating the possibility of constructing a highway through British Columbia from Washington State to Alaska, left early today for Burns Lake, where further hearings will be held.

Heavy rains delayed arrival of the group until after 5 yesterday afternoon and a meeting was held last night in the Canadian Legion hall, sponsored by the Vanderhoof board of trade.

Suggestions were asked for in connection with the proposed highway and after the meeting a banquet was held in the new Vanderhoof Hotel.

Accompanying the commission, which is headed by Hon. Charles Stewart, was James Gray, Tregoe, Liberal member of Parliament for the Cariboo, and M. M. Connelly, Liberal member of the British Columbia legislature for Omineca.

Sitting with Mr. Stewart are J. W. Spencer of Victoria, J. M. Wardle and Arthur Dixon, British Columbia deputy minister of public works.

Riot in Jail At Lethbridge

Ringleaders Dislodged
From Dining-room
By Police Squads

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — A riot, which began in the Lethbridge provincial jail at the breakfast hour today and involved practically the entire jail population of 120 men, continued for two hours before it was quelled through efforts of the prison staff and a large number of Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

According to a statement by Warden G. Blake, the prisoners proceeded to the messroom for breakfast as usual about 6.45 a.m. Suddenly a group of ringleaders barricaded themselves in the dining-room. Two guards were in the room at the time, but they were not molested.

The warden explained that a large number of the prisoners took no actual part in the disturbance, the ringleaders alone causing the trouble.

EARLY INVESTIGATION

EDMONTON (CP) — Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta Minister of Public Works, said an inquiry would begin at Lethbridge Monday into the disturbance at the provincial jail there today. Mr. Fallow and a representative of the Attorney-General's Department will attend.

Today in Europe

Warning on Danzig Expected

Chamberlain Expected to Say Any Change
Forced By Reich Means Fight

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Prime Minister Chamberlain today postponed until Monday his parliamentary statement on the Anglo-Polish guarantee, one reason being that Count Edward Racinski, Polish ambassador to Great Britain, is returning to London for the weekend after consultation with the Polish authorities in Warsaw.

The statement is to be designed to clarify Britain's attitude toward the Danzig situation, particularly what would happen if the Germans should accomplish an "inside coup" in the Free City.

Parliamentary circles believed the Prime Minister would declare that any German-supported change in the status of Danzig, except with Poland's agreement, would be considered an "act of aggression" by Germany.

Some indication of the nature of the proposed declaration was seen in a question filed in the House of Commons by Harold MacMillan, Conservative, to be answered Monday.

The question, which informed sources said was framed at Mr. Chamberlain's request, asks whether "the government will issue a declaration that any change in the present status of Danzig, other than by agreement to which the Polish government is a party, whether brought about externally by military action or by a movement initiated or supported by the German government, will be regarded as an act of aggression on the part of Germany and therefore covered by the terms of our pledge to Poland."

It was understood the Prime Minister would give an affirmative reply.

(The undertaking as announced March 31 by Mr. Chamberlain was: "In the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, His Majesty's government (and France) would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all the support in their power.")

Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, who came to London earlier this week and reported on the German attitude, was received by the King today.

Hitler's Eyes On Southeast Europe

LONDON (CP) — Belief was expressed in unofficial quarters today that the German leaders might shift their immediate attention from Danzig to southeast Europe during an apparent lull in tension between Germany and Poland.

Several observers thought Great Britain's declaration of support for Poland appeared to have averted a conflict over Danzig—at any rate for the time being.

"Watch the Balkans," the London Daily Mail, Independent, warned, and demanded a "plain statement" of British policy in event of Hungarian or Bulgarian aggression, backed by Germany, against Roumania.

Noting the visits in Berlin of Premier George Kiossevanoff of Bulgaria and General Henry Werth, chief of the Hungarian general staff, the newspaper asked where Britain would stand if Germany should support Hungarian claims to Transylvania or Bulgarian agitation for Dobruja—both Roumanian territories.

"We are pledged to assist Roumania if her independence were threatened... would it (the pledge) operate if Hungary or Bulgaria were the aggressors?" the Daily Mail asked.

New Angles in Russian Pact Talks

LONDON (CP) — Great Britain and France today made another effort to bring Russia into the European peace bloc. Fresh instructions were sent to Sir William Seeds and Paul-Emile Naggar, the British and French ambassadors in Moscow, which the two western democracies hoped would break the deadlock.

The instructions were drafted after long consultations between the British and French governments. They deal primarily with the Soviet's hesitation to give military pledges to Holland and Switzerland in return for Anglo-French pledges to Latvia, Finland and Estonia.

Hitler Flies in His New Plane

BERLIN (AP) — Adolf Hitler tried out his specially-built personal airplane for the first time yesterday. It has a private room for him and a conference room and is called "Grenzmark."

"Grenzmark" (Border Mark) is the name applied since 1922 to a district just west of Poznan, the Polish Corridor, which remained in Germany after the 1919 partitioning.

The plane, a four-motored Condor built by Focke-Wulf, is the same type which has flown the north Atlantic.

Hitler Backdown In Danzig Hinted

LONDON — With reference to Prime Minister Chamberlain's postponement until next week of a declaration of Britain's policy towards Danzig, the Polish spokesman here today indicated Warsaw had asked for the postponement.

Polish circles explained that just as Warsaw had withheld its intended demands on the Danzig Senate, it prefers that Mr. Chamberlain hold his statement in abeyance until the situation becomes critical.

It was reported that Poland had received German assurance that Nazi military preparations in the Free City would be discontinued and it was even hinted that Hitler would cancel his scheduled visit to Danzig.

Britain May Extend Air Displays

LONDON (CP) — A usually well-informed source said today there was a possibility participation of 52 Royal Air Force planes in Bastille day exercises in Paris July 14 would be followed by R.A.F. visits to other countries to which Britain has given guarantees of help if attacked.

The London Daily Telegraph, Conservative, said the Paris visit "may be assumed to be the fore-

Doukhobor Groups Lose Homes

Quiet Reported After Three Families Evicted
At Winlaw, B.C.

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — A dozen Doukhobors at Winlaw, 30 miles west of here, found themselves homeless today following eviction proceedings yesterday when Sheriff M. E. Harper of Nelson, a deputy and eight bailiffs served foreclosure writs issued for the Sun Life Assurance Company.

The Doukhobors, members of three families all named Perepelkin, had their belongings deposited on the pebbly road and saw the gate of their half-section farm closed and barred. They accepted the situation quietly, although three men and two women employed the method of nude protest made famous by Doukhobors in this West Kootenay district and stripped off their clothes for a few minutes.

The eviction was the first made since the Sun Life Assurance Company was granted foreclosure proceedings against the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood Limited, the communal organization representing orthodox Doukhobors in Canada which had mortgaged about 15,000 acres of land in the southern interior of British Columbia.

The mortgage amounted to $225,000 and affects lands on which about 2,000 members of the Russian religious sect are settled. While the company is at liberty to evict these settlers, it is thought some may purchase their farms from the company and become independent Doukhobors.

The property was mortgaged to the Sun Life about 25 years ago to secure a loan of $200,000. Payments were not kept up and interest gradually accumulated until the company embarked on the foreclosure proceedings.

R. N. Wilson, Sun Life representative here, would not say if further evictions are being considered. He said the Doukhobors had ignored repeated warnings that action was impending.

Foreclosure proceedings also are being sought by the National Trust Company against 22,000 acres of Doukhobor lands held in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. The Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood mortgaged this land to secure $350,000 in bonds which were hypothecated to the Canadian Bank of Commerce to secure a loan.

runner of longer and more frequent stays by British machines and personnel in France and by French squadrons in this country.

The newspaper also suggested "large R.A.F. missions to eastern Europe" to make clear "beyond all doubt that Britain has wholeheartedly abandoned isolation."

Roumanians Watch Bulgar-Reich Talks

BUCHAREST (AP) — The Roumanian press voiced concern today over the talks of Premier George Kiossevanoff of Bulgaria with Chancellor Hitler and asked whether Germany and Italy had promised to help Bulgaria reclaim war-lost territory from Roumania.

Dr. Nicolas Jorga, aged former tutor to King Carol, told the senate Roumania was in danger of having her exports monopolized by Germans under terms of the trade treaty signed after dismemberment of Czechoslovakia in March.

Britain Orders Seven Autogiros

LONDON (CP) — The air ministry has ordered seven autogiro aircraft for experimental flying, in the belief they may be useful in districts where landing and take-off space is restricted.

The new machines may be flown off an area little bigger than a tennis court and can "jump" vertically between 12 and 15 feet. They can be landed in a correspondingly small space.

The "jump" take-off is achieved by gearing the windmill-like rotor to the engine. The vanes of the rotor are placed in a horizontal position while they gain speed and act something like feathered oars.

When the rotor is turning at about 280 revolutions a minute the vanes are turned to "take hold" of the air and lift the machine off the ground. The new craft also can be "hovered" against a light wind without forward motion.

New French Propaganda

PARIS (AP) — France has entered the "propaganda war" by sending out daily broadcasts in six languages from 17 stations. Broadcasts in German, Italian, Spanish, English, Arabic and Serb-Croat tongues present the viewpoint that France "is against war and desires a true peace."

Orient War Endurance Test

China Fights On as Third Year
Begins and Japan Faces Big Risks

By CLARK LEE
Associated Press Foreign Staff

SHANGHAI — The storm of war rolling over China reached its second anniversary Friday with no signs of breaking.

China, though terribly punished, fights on.

Her government has been driven more than 1,000 miles from the coast. A third of her population and area, including her richest provinces and most of her modern machinery of industry, commerce and communications, are in Japanese hands—some 580,000 square miles with 170,000,000 inhabitants.

Japanese place the Chinese military dead alone at 2,300,000. Neutral put the total Chinese killed at 2,000,000, including civilian victims of air raids. More than 50,000,000 Chinese have been driven from their homes or reduced to destitution.

With the fall of Hankow last October 25, at the end of nearly 16 months of war, the phase of major army operations—an almost unbroken string of Japanese victories—ended.

Now it is a test of endurance and nerves, of China's will to resist against Japan's ability to withstand the constant drain of money and men and the nervous strain of pursuing final victory.

CONFUSED RESULTS

Clear-cut victory for either side seems unlikely under present conditions.

China cannot now muster the offensive strength to drive Japan off the Asiatic mainland. Without greatly increasing her present army of some 1,250,000 men, Japan cannot risk pushing farther into China's interior to crush General Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

China expects to go on fighting for five, 10 or even 20 years, hoping the struggle will cause Japan to collapse internally.

After many months in office, the Nanking and Peiping puppet regimes exercise only very nominal control, extending as far as Japanese guns can shoot.

The growing uncertainty of Japan's generals over the duration and final outcome of the war has caused them to strike out in a new direction in an attempt to force third powers to discontinue aid to Chiang Kai-shek.

A steadily more aggressive attitude has been adopted toward neutral nations, especially Great Britain and France, culminating in threats to take over foreign settlements and concessions by force.

RAIDS INCREASE

It has also brought intensification of aerial attacks with undiminished aerial as the targets of an attempt to smash China's morale. Nine thousand civilians died in Chungking alone in three raids in May.

The Japanese have not pacified a single province nor any single large area. By Japanese count, for example, there are still 25,000 Chinese guerrillas within 25 miles of Shanghai and a whole Chinese army a few miles south of Nanking. Occupation of coastal cities does not extend for more than a few miles back from the sea.

The Japanese admit their job will take many years, and some of them are no longer certain it can be accomplished at all.

Japanese in Tokio Shout at British

TOKIO (AP) — One hundred members of a patriotic society demonstrated in front of the British embassy here today, but were prevented by police from entering the embassy gate.

The demonstrators shouted anti-British slogans and displayed anti-British banners. W. B. Cunningham, counsellor of the embassy, received three representatives of the group, who presented a memorandum demanding Britain change her policy in China.

Japan Colonel Voices Hatred of Britain

TOKIO (AP) — In the strongest official statement yet issued about British-Japanese relations, Colonel Moriaki Shimizu, director of the army information bureau, bluntly declared Friday that "never in history have the Japanese people borne in their hearts such hatred for Britain as exists today."

His long manifesto was issued in connection with the second anniversary of the Japanese-Chinese conflict and voiced the contention that Great Britain was primarily responsible for China's continued resistance.

Shimizu reviewed British-Japanese relations at length and concluded: "Japan and Britain were destined to become enemies the day the British-Japanese alliance was abolished."

(The two countries on January 30, 1902, signed a treaty pledging mutual assistance in case of war.

The agreement was superseded by the four-power Pacific treaty negotiated at the Washington Conference of 1921-22.)

"Even if British assistance to (Chinese Generalissimo) Chiang Kai-shek should end immediately," the statement said, "no one could guarantee that those who lost brothers, fathers or husbands on the China front would be able to change their feeling."

Japanese Bombs Near British Gunboat

CHUNGKING, China (AP) — Doors of the 400-ton British gunboat Falcon were blown in and the craft's lower decks were washed with water when four bombs from Japanese warplanes exploded near her Yangtze River anchorage early Friday.

The second anniversary of the Japanese-Chinese war was ushered in, in the Chinese capital, with bombs from five successive flights of Japanese warplanes which caused about 50 casualties.

Some bombs narrowly missed the residence of the counselor of the United States embassy, Willis R. Peck, and the Canadian Mission Hotel, where more than a score of foreigners live.

Most of the bombs fell into the Yangtze, and this second moonlight raid in as many nights accomplished little more than to arouse the Chinese populace for anniversary celebrations, which began bright and early with bands playing and flags waving.

French-Japanese Tension in Hankow

SHANGHAI (AP) — A tense half-hour crisis when armed French and Japanese troops in Hankow faced each other in fighting formation was reported Friday by Domei (Japanese news agency).

French officials had refused to permit the passage of a motorfloat parade organized to celebrate the second anniversary of the Japanese-Chinese conflict and had stationed Annamite (French colonial) soldiers and French sailors at the entrance to the French concession.

The Japanese quickly rushed forces to the scene, the dispatch said, but the dispute was settled by negotiations of French and Japanese military officers.

Arms for Chinese Through Shanghai

SHANGHAI (AP) — A Japanese army spokesman asserted Friday that Chinese guerrilla forces in the vicinity of Shanghai were receiving an "inexhaustible supply" of arms and ammunition through the International Settlement and the French concession here.

The spokesman alleged both foreign and Chinese merchants within the foreign areas were receiving arms consignments to be forwarded to the guerrillas, although Japanese surround the entire area and have "controlled" the city for nearly two years.

Chiang Urges Powers Help Check Japan

CHUNGKING, China (AP) — General Chiang Kai-shek urged powers friendly to China to apply economic measures against Japan and the Japanese people in appeals Thursday night on the eve of the second anniversary of the outbreak of the Japanese-Chinese war.

His message to the Japanese, following his procedure last year, called on them to "awake from a publicity-induced stupor of militaristic supervision and save themselves from mad aggression leading to certain ruin and destruction."

He told them to ask a number of questions: Why has the quick victory promised by the militarists dragged on in a two-year war? Why has the Japanese people's burden become increasingly heavy and why have more soldiers been mobilized and sent to the front "but only dead and wounded return?"

Only an independent, powerful China can assure peace and order in east Asia, he said, not a Sovietized nor a Japan-hating China.

British Sailor Freed By Japanese

TIENSIN (AP) — Edward Theodore Griffiths, second officer of the British coastal steamer Ychow, was released by Japanese Friday after he had been held since July 2 for using "insulting language" to Japanese soldiers.

Major-General A. E. Grasset, commander of British troops at Hongkong, arrived on the admiral's yacht Falmouth to inspect British forces here.

second anniversary of the Japanese-China war, warned that Great Britain will have to recognize Japan's right to build a "new order in east Asia."

In a statement concerning the Japanese-Chinese hostilities which began two years ago Friday, he alluded to the forthcoming Anglo-Japanese talks here over the Tientsin blockade, and said:

"True settlement of the pending questions will never be reached if the negotiations are not based on a profound understanding of construction by Japan of a new order in east Asia."

"If Great Britain refuses to admit this fundamental point for Japan, there will remain no other course but to suspend the talks. Japan 'must crush any power' that obstructs her program of creating this new order, the premier said.

Confesses Slaying Boy in Ontario

FORT ERIE, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Frank M. Talmadge of Buffalo testified today Stuart Neishwender of Buffalo had confessed to her that he had killed Henry Doto, 12, of Buffalo. Her evidence came as preliminary hearing on a charge of murder started against Neishwender.

Earlier, the court had adjourned until July 14 Neishwender's preliminary hearing on an attempted suicide charge laid against him.

The Buffalo mechanic was charged with murder after search parties found the boy's mutilated body in a clump of bushes on Fort Erie's outskirts June 22.

The attempted suicide charge was laid after Neishwender staggered to a hospital here June 20 with a serious gash on his arm and weak from loss of blood.

Army regulations require that pilots be equipped with parachutes while flying in army aircraft. Also, that two parachutes be worn on all training jumps.

WAR REFERENDUM PLANS DEBATED

U.S. Senate Committee Rejects Them But Sends Them to Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two war referendum proposals sponsored by 12 senators were rejected yesterday by the United States Senate judiciary committee but sent on to the Senate for consideration.

The committee disapproved a proposed constitutional amendment which would have ordered a popular vote to decide on a declaration of war on participation in "warfare overseas."

It also disapproved a proposal which would have called for a referendum and then final action by Congress in declaring war.

Both proposals would have vested war-declaring powers in the electorate, except in the case of an actual or threatened attack on the United States and its possessions, or any western hemisphere country by "any non-American nation."

Lightning Hits Bank

ST. PAUL (AP) — Lightning struck the First National Bank building yesterday, knocking off several hundred pounds of stone facing from the top of the 33-story building, St. Paul's tallest structure.

The stone cascaded to the roof of an adjoining parking garage. Hundreds of occupants of the building's offices were frightened but no one was hurt.

NEWS AWARDS IN U.S. ANNOUNCED

National Headliners' Club
Gold Plaques To Be Presented July 15

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Twelve newspapermen, photographers, newsreel men and radio newscasters will be awarded gold plaques by the National Headliners' Club here July 15 for outstanding work in their respective fields during the past year.

Arthur Robb, editor of the magazine Editor and Publisher and chairman of the club's committee on awards, said Frank L. Toughill of the Philadelphia Record would receive the plaque for "the best exclusive reporting in the domestic field." Robb said Toughill had won the award with his reporting of the "murder-for-insurance" ring's activities in Philadelphia.

The award for "the best exclusive news reporting in the foreign field" was given to Reynolds Packard of the United Press for his work during the Czechoslovakian crisis last September, and the medal for "the best news picture" was awarded to Howard Jones, formerly of the Knoxville Journal, for a picture taken while his subject, a politician, fired a revolver at him.

Damon Runyon was given an award for his "consistently outstanding work as a writer of feature stories," and Heywood Brown for "the consistently high literary quality of his column," and particularly a column slugged "Lost Souls at Sea."

John Knott on the Dallas News will be cited for his outstanding work as a cartoonist, and Jack Knell of radio station WEEI, Boston, will receive an award for his eyewitness account of the rescue of survivors from the submarine Squalus.

A gold plaque will go to the New York World-Telegram for its expose of the financial affairs of Martin R. Manton, former federal judge. The award committee said the expose resulted in his arrest and conviction.

The New York Journal-American will also receive a plaque for having enacted by the New York legislature a new lunacy law "which may become a model for other states."

A posthumous award will be given the late Marlen E. Pew for "his distinguished service to the American newspaper profession." Few was editor of Editor and Publisher for 13 years.

For his newsreel shots of the bombing and capture of Canton, China, the award for the best newsreel in the foreign field goes to A. T. Hull Jr. of Pathe News. Al Brick of Fox Movie-tone News won the domestic newsreel award with his shot showing the fatal injury of Captain R. I. (Pat) Roark of the British polo team at Monterey, Cal.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR CIVILIANS

Hoover Urges Outlawing
Of Food Blockades and Bombing Noncombatants

CLEVELAND, O. (AP) — Agreements among nations to outlaw wartime blockade of food ships and the bombing of civilians were proposed by Herbert Hoover in an address here last night at the international convention of Christian Endeavor Societies.

Such agreements should provide for enforcement by neutral countries, the former United States President said.

"One of the compelling reasons for unceasing building of bombing planes is to prepare reprisals for blockade starving of women and children or reprisals for air attacks," Mr. Hoover said.

"This killing of women and children haunts every council table and affects every move of power politics. It drives not alone to armaments. It drives to more and more military alliances that breed war."

He proposed that all nations which are willing should enter an agreement:

"1. That vessels laden solely with food supplies should be placed on the same basis of immunity as hospital ships.

"2. That there shall be no bombing of civil populations and no bombing anywhere except in the field of actual fighting men on land or sea and at works devoted strictly to munitions."

"3. That the shipment of food supplies in war to any blockaded nation may be in full cargoes under the management and jurisdiction of a commission of the neutral nations.

"4. That neutral observers should be continuously in session with every belligerent country to determine the facts of any killing of civilians from the air."

Valera's U.S. Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eamon de Valera, Prime Minister of Eire, will sail for the U.S. September 21, it was announced yesterday by John Cudahy, American minister to Dublin.

Aberhart Attacks Mortgage Bank

Says Act Creating It Goes Beyond Powers
Of Federal Parliament

EDMONTON (CP) — Premier Aberhart today condemned as ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament the Central Mortgage Bank Act designed to centralize financial "domination and power" and give lending institutions "protection and authority of the state to enforce their claims on debtors." He said "the general public should at once protest proclamation of this bill."

Issuance of the second of an announced series of statements dealing with the legislation came as a surprise. The Premier had said Wednesday that it would be withheld at least until after a conference later today between the provincial cabinet and Donald Gordon of Ottawa, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

In the first statement Mr. Aberhart charged the legislation would force Canadian taxpayers to "assume the huge burdens of the estate's business since lawyers will no longer be able to compete with this huge machine in investing the funds of estates."

The Premier quoted the Financial Post as asserting that through the act "trust companies... gain a virtual monopoly of the estate's business since lawyers will no longer be able to compete with this huge machine in investing the funds of estates."

Mr. Aberhart charged adjustments made under the act "will be entirely in the hands of the central mortgage bank and its member institutions. The debtor has no say in the matter... so this aspect of the legislation is loaded entirely in favor of the lending institutions."

The statement said lending institutions would be compensated "in the long run for their entire losses" and the Dominion Government is "guaranteeing the safe reinvestment by the lending institutions of the amounts thus received by them."

Anti-Nazi Campaign In Southwest Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP) — Southwest African Nazi agents, seeking the identity of a mysterious "Ulrich von Hutten" known as the "German Scarlet Pimpernel" have discovered he is three other fellows.

"Von Hutten" actually is Lieut. Schultz, Lieut. Steins and Carl Walter, all Aryans and all organizers of an anti-Nazi front in the mandated territory.

Together the three publish and circulate "Freiheitsbriefe," an anti-Nazi pamphlet, shipping 2,000 copies at a time, always from different towns.

Claims Oil Companies 'Stifled' New Process

DETROIT (AP) — The Chemical Research Corporation filed declaration of a $30,000,000 damage suit in Circuit Court yesterday against officers and agents of the Pure Oil Co., and indirectly against nine other companies and 12 individuals.

The declaration charges the defendants "stifled" what it termed a superior process for "cracking" gasoline developed by the Chemical Research Corporation, an organization of Michigan and Ontario interests.

Loses Arm in Fall

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harry Priestley, 47, lost his right arm late yesterday when he struck a projecting plank after dropping nearly 100 feet from the north end of Burrard Bridge which spans False Creek.

Several men in a boat nearby went to Priestley's rescue and brought him to shore. Police said his arm was severed when he struck the plank, part of the bridge, cribbing.

German Editors in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine German newspaper editors en route to Germany after making a "good will tour" of the United States visited the general headquarters of the Associated Press yesterday.

Major Carl Cranz of the Berlin Voelkischer Beobachter said the purpose of the trip was twofold, to study American newspapers and newspaper methods and to study the "average American."

NO CONCESSIONS TO FORCE, SAYS EDEN

New Aggression By Totalitarians Would Mean War

LEAMINGTON, Eng. (CP) — Improvement in the international situation cannot be expected until the totalitarian powers are finally convinced new aggression must inevitably plunge Europe into war, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, former Foreign Secretary, said last night.

Governments should realize, he told his constituents, that a new international order has to be established. He said the British people are determined "that henceforth there shall be neither concession before threats nor concession to force."

"We are told we are living through a war of nerves, but neither these tactics nor any others that can be contrived will intimidate the British people," he said. "To imagine we can be worn down by a succession of alarms, or be browbeaten by repeated threats, is to cherish a most dangerous illusion."

"Our policy is not going to be dictated by fear of war. There is only one task for British statesmanship today—to convince the rulers and peoples of Germany and Italy of the unshakable firmness of our determination. If they can do this and convince others of what we know to be the true temper of the British people, there will be no war."

CABINET DISCUSSION

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, independent, yesterday said Anthony Eden, former Foreign Secretary, the man who "created the Italian menace" was not wanted back in the Cabinet.

"No, Eden, we do not want you back again," the newspaper said. The newspaper said there was something to be said for the man "who warned us of the German danger," apparently meaning Winston Churchill.

REJECT JOBLESS VACATION CAMPS

Corps Association's Plan
Too Costly, Says
Federal Government

OTTAWA (CP) — Heavy cost and the regimentation involved were two of the grounds on which the Dominion Government declined the Canadian Corps Association's plan of vocational camps for 50,000 unemployed youths, Hon. Norman Rogers, Labor Minister, said last night.

Mr. Rogers said the plan's cost—calculated at about $50,000,000 yearly—made it "almost prohibitive." It would have placed the youths in 10 such camps for two years.

He noted labor and youth organizations in Canada had declared themselves definitely opposed to the plan.

"It involves a degree of regimentation and a type of institutional life not in keeping with Canadian traditions," he said. "The people of Canada have not yet shown their willingness to submit to 'employment for all' at the price of regimentation."

While the Canadian Corps Association suggested that part of the cost might be defrayed by production in the camps of useful commodities, the government considers that "inevitable employment of such a large number of men on the manufacture of commodities now supplied by private industry would cause disturbance and dislocation."

To Mark Spot Where V.C. Died

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — Members of the Australian contingent to the Coronation in 1937 have subscribed to purchase a bronze plaque in memory of Gunner Arthur P. Sullivan, V.C., killed April 9, 1937, while in London as a member of the contingent.

The plaque will be shipped to England soon, and will be attached to the railing outside Wellington Barracks, Birdcage Walk, Westminster, near the scene of the fatal accident. Sullivan was knocked down by a bicycle.

Anti-Semitism in Egypt

CAIRO (AP) — The discovery of a bomb at Cairo's main synagogue coincided yesterday with the appearance of anti-Semitic propaganda, from which Egypt has been comparatively free. The bomb was removed before it exploded.

Strongly anti-Jewish articles were displayed by a newly-established weekly publication. Thousands of anonymous anti-Semitic circulars were distributed in the malls. There are approximately 60,000 Jews in Egypt.

COST-PLUS PLAN FOR U.S. PLANES

Consider System to Spread Contracts
Over All Factories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Concerned over difficulties of obtaining more than 3,500 new army planes, the United States War Department is considering asking Congress for emergency authority to negotiate contracts on a cost-plus basis.

Official sources disclosed this as they studied bids opened at Wright Field, Dayton, O., on which mass orders for more than 2,500 of the planes will be based.

The proposed legislation would set aside the present requirement that contracts be given the lowest bidder.

Without measures to spread the construction, some officials fear that the largest of 34 U.S. aircraft plants may be jammed with orders while other factories are virtually idle at a time when all facilities are needed.

CARELESSNESS COSTS MILLIONS

VICTORIA, B.C. — Fresh in the memory of British Columbians is the extremely dangerous forest fire situation that existed last Summer. Many homes were destroyed, and for a time whole communities were in peril. One fire alone on Vancouver Island covered 75,000 acres, in which millions of feet of tilled and bucked timber was destroyed, as well as valuable machinery and standing timber. Other districts were almost as bad.

Nor is this the only loss that is sustained when forest fires get out of hand. Tourist trade is adversely affected. Camps are closed and wage earners are laid off. Sportsmen, too, find fishing streams and hunting country ruined for years to come. The tragic part is this: Carefully compiled statistics show that less than one-quarter of all the forest fires are preventable. Three-quarters of the fires are caused by human carelessness and could be prevented. The thing to do is to be even more careful in your own home, because the forest floor is carpeted during the summer months with a covering so inflammable that a single spark can cause untold damage.

This information is published by the British Columbia Forest Service, Department of Lands.

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1939

A Two-year-old "Incident"

JAPAN'S UNDECLARED WAR ON CHINA—still referred to by the government at Tokio as an "incident"—is two years old today. In the summer of 1937 the world was informed that a Japanese army trained to perfection, equipped with all the latest devices the production of which an era of intensive study had been responsible, would make short work of the Chinese "rabble" with its primitive means of defence. It is true that large areas of territory have been occupied by the soldiers of Nippon; true that hundreds of thousands of women and children have succumbed to merciless bombing and other forms of "suppression" peculiar to the mentality of some in the Mikado's employ; true that many cities and towns, industrial establishments and dwellings, are nothing but a collection of ruins; but as the "incident" enters its third year the spirit of the Chinese defenders would appear to be indestructible. The armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, depending to a larger extent than is generally understood on their own production of military equipment, may not be winning spectacular victories in the field, but the widespread activities of well-trained and resolute guerrilla bands have presented to the boastful Japanese commanders problems that are obviously growing more irritating and complex from day to day.

It can be safely assumed, moreover, the Chinese leader realizes that without larger trained armies and a great deal more modern fighting equipment, any attempts to drive the invaders off the Asiatic mainland would be out of the question. On the other hand, Japan's troops have penetrated Chinese territory to such a vast extent that further advances in an effort to crush resistance would be attended by risks the gravity of which is apparent even to the most militant hot-heads in the government at Tokio. And this is the point which matters have reached as today's anniversary is "celebrated." Nor is this all. It must have dawned on all intelligent Japanese by this time that the prospect of wearing down the morale of the Chinese, fighters and noncombatants alike, is growing dimmer from day to day. Never in the history of the republic has the great mass of the people experienced such unity as that now manifested under conditions which might well have produced encouragement for the return of marauding war lords and unlicensed banditry.

Not only is the plight of the invading forces an inspiring factor in Chinese resistance; it is a poor advertisement for the Oriental interpretation of totalitarianism. As practiced by the armies of the invading Japanese, accentuated by arrogance toward the nationals of other countries in international settlements, Nippon's status among the nations of the world has deteriorated in the same ratio as China has enhanced hers. The contrast of conduct is constantly being reflected in numerous ways to the obvious discredit of Japan which—like the principal European authoritarian state—has so often boasted of her culture. The Japanese government accompanies it by trying numerous expedients to offset the slow progress of conquest in the field with, among others, the demand for international recognition of Japan's right to build a "new order in the East." This is directed primarily, of course, to Great Britain. Premier Hiranuma's edict published yesterday, incidentally, begins with an intimation to the British government that the forthcoming discussions in connection with the Tientsin "incident" will be fruitless unless they recognize this claim.

"If Great Britain refuses to admit this fundamental point for Japan, there will be no other course but to suspend the talks," says Tokio's government leader. For Japan "must crush any power" that obstructs her program of creating this new order. These are brave words which the Japanese Premier uses. But he appears to forget that the "crushing" business is not proceeding at all well in China, that any ill-considered move which would seriously imperil the interests, for example, of the two English-speaking powers might conceivably add to rather than subtract from his country's existing difficulties as it enters into the third year of its undeclared war with China.

"Jack" Jones of Silvertown

ONE OF THE MOST COLORFUL, IF AT times somewhat boisterous, members of the British House of Commons, Mr. J. J. (Jack) Jones, will not be a candidate for re-election after the dissolution of the present Parliament. He has been in poor health for the last few years; but in recent months his eyes have given him a good deal of trouble. "That," he explains, "is what has let me down."

"Jack" Jones has headed the poll in all the seven general elections since the Great War, his Laborite supporters in the Silvertown division of the near-London provincial borough of West Ham giving him huge majorities on every occasion, his margins in 1924-29-31-35 being approximately 15 to 3, 23 to 3, 19 to 5 and 18 to 4, in thousands, respectively.

It is not inappropriate to describe "Jack" Jones as a most original and lovable M.P.

His irresistible sense of humor, coupled with his breezy manner and his earnestness, often deepening into real pathos when occasion called for it, impressed his fellow M.P.'s from the beginning of his parliamentary career. He has, on numerous occasions, enlivened question time with flashes of rich humor in "supplementaries" or ejaculations. His Irish birth no doubt was responsible for his trenchant denunciation in the Commons of the "Black-and-Tan" campaign in Ireland, and he stood up to Carson and lesser lights of his following with imperturbable courage and damaging effect. He more than once challenged Sir Hamar, now Lord, Greenwood convincingly on matters of Irish policy.

Mr. Jones, incidentally, has been shop boy, docker, builders' laborer and trades union organizer. And he has also been mayor of West Ham.

What Everybody Knows

WHAT HAD MR. H. R. MACMILLAN, head of a large-British Columbia lumber exporting firm, in mind when he told a Vancouver audience the other day that Canada should be helping Great Britain in this time of crisis by making her support more clear to the world?

The Vancouver Daily Province finds it a most timely pronouncement, and thinks that, "by making her position clear, Canada would not only be helping Britain and so the cause of democracy and civilization," but "would be helping herself." And to show Mr. MacMillan how much it appreciates his observations our contemporary enlarges as follows:

"It is not in any way a question of Canada at the tail of the Empire kite, Canada being dragged into Empire wars, Canada pulling someone's chestnuts out of the fire. Canada is as much a part of the Empire as Great Britain is. She is as vitally concerned with Empire policy and the Empire's fate. She should be as deeply interested in the maintenance of the Empire's prestige. And one way of preserving the Empire's prestige—and so the Empire's peace—is for Canada to make it as plain as she can make it to all who are interested that there is no Empire division."

"It would be a shameful thing, as Mr. MacMillan suggested, for Canada to even seem to wait to choose the winning side. For her, if the great world struggle comes, there can only be one winning side. There is only one choice. The choice has been made. The Canadian people have made it. Why should their government any longer hesitate to make that choice clear to all the world, and to take whatever action is necessary to implement it?"

If Mr. MacMillan and the Vancouver newspaper will refer to the debates of the recent session of the Canadian Parliament they will discover that the Prime Minister of Canada, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, speaking for the government and people of this Dominion, already has said, officially and unequivocally, that when Britain is at war Canada is at war, and that Parliament, when it has been acquainted with all the circumstances—the nature and extent of help required to meet the demands of the situation, and so on—will define both method and participation. What more do Mr. MacMillan and the Vancouver Province want?

Mr. MacMillan is a very successful businessman. He is an expert on the timber industry of this province. Mr. Mackenzie King is one of the most successful interpreters of the will of the people Canada has ever had. He is an expert in the science of government. His views on Canada's support to Britain "in this time of crisis" is on the record.

Happy Days in China

THE JAPAN TIMES WEEKLY BRINGS us this cheery opinion: "We don't know how the song 'Happy Days Are Here Again' sounds in Chinese, but the Chinese certainly must be singing it now, with peace and new life at their doorsteps."

Along with this, however, comes the official statement from the Imperial Japanese headquarters estimating 2,300,000 Chinese killed or wounded in the "China incident," with 936,345 dead Chinese actually counted on the battlefields.

An educator points out that 200 years ago arithmetic was considered a frill. This strange view has since been abandoned, save by legislative bodies.

Complaining that a movie isn't in accord with historic fact is not enough. Have you listened to the testimony of six eye-witnesses to the same traffic crash?

BUSY AT 76

From Toronto Star
A man is fortunate, indeed, who reaches the age of 76 years and continues vital with creative energy, as Henry Ford is today. His inventive genius still is at work and he hopes to put out a tractor that will revolutionize farming and eliminate horses from the present indispensable place in the agricultural industry.

W. J. Cameron says his chief is the first to work in the morning and the last to quit at night, the busiest man in his entire organization. He did not add, what is probably the truth, that Henry Ford labors for the sheer joy of being useful, of lightening the load carried by toiling multitudes and contributing his quota to the progress of humanity. He has done more than his share already, but anyone who is animated by such ideals does not weary so long as his physical strength is maintained. Interest in the activities and conditions of the community is one of the surest ways of preserving health and obtaining enjoyment of a sort that brings no bitter aftermath.

According to Mr. Cameron the great motor magnate has no personal fortune of any account because it is his pleasure to turn all his profits back into his vast enterprises to keep workingmen commercially engaged. Perhaps more millionaires pursue that practice, without urge for personal gain, than most economic reformers imagine to be the case.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PROTEST

THIS IS WRITTEN under difficulties and provocation. I am being bullied and cursed and told to get out. A shrill little voice is shrieking in my ear with terrible profanity which, to anyone with a sensitive nature like mine, is most distressing.

Of course the old squirrel has reason to be annoyed. He had this cottage to himself up to a few days ago and he resents us as intruders. Before we came he could scamper about the roof as he pleased and climb up and down the porch posts and leap from there into the pine trees and eat his meal of pine cones in peace, without vulgar observers.

When he came this morning and sat down on a branch, cone in hand, he looked out in amazement to see a great revolting animal lying on a bed, watching him with staring eyes. My gaze quite spoiled his breakfast. He dropped the pine cone and walked off with dignity and with haste, muttering protests, like an old man who has been told by a policeman to move on.

Now he has taken up his position at a safe distance in a cedar tree and sits there shouting at the top of his voice, telling everyone about the lake that the invaders are here, that their homes are no longer safe because the big brutes from the city are back again.

DEEP INSTINCT

ONCE AGAIN you can observe the phenomena of an approaching election in Canada, the deep upheavals of the human breast, the writhings of democracy, which suddenly comes to life at such times and then goes to sleep for five years.

You can always tell when it is coming. Fellows who have never mentioned politics in four years, who have never read a Hansard or a blue book, who have no notion what the government has been doing, suddenly develop at this time a deep knowledge of public affairs. No man is so poor or so ignorant that he cannot give you by now a pretty clear opinion on the record of the King administration and on the prospects of Dr. Manion, whom he has never seen or heard.

This opinion will sharpen wonderfully during the next month or two, so that by August everybody will not only have a final opinion but will be ready to fight and die for it. By autumn everybody will be a Liberal, a Conservative, a Socialist or a New Democrat and will imagine that he has always been one, though he hasn't thought about politics for years.

It is remarkable how the ordinary man can acquire political and economic learning almost overnight. Students and politicians sometimes spend a lifetime coming to a conclusion, and very often fail to come to any at all. Statesmen are puzzled all over the world. The best observers, who have done nothing but delve into politics all their lives, cannot make up their minds. The economists all quarrel and stew. But the ordinary man has no trouble. He knows by a deep unerring instinct whether he is a Conservative, Liberal, Socialist or New Democrat, and he has no doubt in his heart about anything.

He knows his side must be right, that his party has the only platform and policy (though it probably has neither if you could get inside the heads of its leaders).

I tell you it is a heartening thing to see how democracy rises to the test of such times as these, to see the capacity and the deep learning of the ordinary citizen.

BRAVE SOUL

WELL, I MUST GO OUT and gather in my wood now. This is perhaps the most noble occupation of man, to gather in his wood and maintain himself by his own efforts where you, in the city, merely turn on the gas stove. Indeed, I am prepared to state that humanity is divided roughly into two great classes—those who gather their own wood and those who don't. A man who has gathered in his own wood, who has gone out with an axe on a drizzling morning and cut his own wood and split it and carried it into his own fire may be ignorant as I am. He may not understand federal politics as you do. He may not be an economist like the man who delivers groceries or fixes the plumbing in the city. He may be rough as I am, but he can never be vulgar.

He has a native nobility about him not often found in cities. He has a reverence about him, too, a piety not apparent where men gather in numbers, for he knows his dependence upon the earth, upon the growth of trees and the inscrutable processes of nature. He knows that he is only a brief tenant upon the bosom of the earth and will soon depart, that he must toil all his hours here for a mere existence, and when he is gone nature will move on without interruption and without pity, never missing him.

A man who gathers in his own wood before breakfast must have courage, too, 7 o'clock courage, which is the rarest kind, and a fine confidence in his muscles, his power with an axe. Also, I think, looking out into the rain and the dank woods, he must be a complete fool when he could be in a comfortable flat in town, turning on the radiator.

Chamberlain Tells His Own Story

NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN may not be the most understood man in the world, but he has about earned that dubious honor for the role he has played in world politics in the last three years, particularly in the last year. Experience among readers interested in world affairs has been that the familiar caricature of the 70-year-old gentleman and his umbrella could be counted on for Bronx cheers about as often as for any word of understanding or appreciation.

Today the British Prime Minister makes public the speeches he made between May, 1937, and May, 1939, and slow-going as one finds most collected utterances of statesmen, the importance and timeliness of the crises involved lend the present book an unusual interest. The title is "In Search of Peace" (Putnam), and the book appears simultaneously in several countries.

Most interesting was the fact that out of the seemingly long-winded formalities of speeches to the House of Commons, the personality of Neville Chamberlain does emerge. He says he was prompted to publish the present book because of letters from men and women all over the world who, like Chamberlain, are interested in the preservation of peace. And he is not in the dark that his motives were misunderstood and his sincerity doubted. The key to his actions and his character, that is, as the present volume unfolds them, seems to be his own description of himself, "a man of peace to the depths of my soul."

SIDEGLIMPS AT SPAIN

In "In Search of Peace" in the earlier speeches and the background of all speeches are adequately explained in italic interludes—there are illuminating sidelights on Ethiopia and upon the war in Spain. However one might disagree with Chamberlain, it was his deep conviction that the war in Spain might almost overnight ignite the whole of Europe—and of civilization—and he was willing to make any compromise or take any insult that that war might be kept within the Spanish boundaries.

The same eagerness to go any lengths in the cause of peace is evidenced in his account of his visits to Germany and the Munich agreement. One can get some pretty sour laughs—as the House of Commons did—from some of his statements, but the fact remains that war was staved off, even though the little fellow took the casualties.

WARNING TO GERMANY

But even with Neville Chamberlain, Germany can't go on forever gobbling what Germany desires.

In connection with compulsory military training and the large program of rearmament, Mr. Chamberlain seems to have found the limits beyond which he would not go. Still praying for peace, he believed that a fully armed country was the best safeguard against the most disastrous of all wars. He writes:

"And as for Germany's actions, we were not necessarily concerned with them so long as they were confined within the limits which they themselves laid down and sought only to promote the interests of Germany without threatening the independence of non-German countries. But when Bohemia and Moravia, countries inhabited by a population the great majority of which was not German, when those countries were annexed to the Reich, well, then, other countries began at once to ask—where is this process going to stop?"

"Indeed, the natural result was that every neighbor of Germany felt its security threatened, and a suspicion, a widespread suspicion, was created that we were only watching the first step in a policy which might be contemplating the swallowing of state after state with the intention of ultimately dominating the world."

"NOTHING TO FEAR"

"It may be that the Nazi leaders have no such ambitions. They themselves say that there is nothing farther from their minds than to use these gigantic forces which they have accumulated for the purpose of aggression against others or of attempting the economic, political and military domination of smaller states. If that be so, then I say that Germany has nothing to fear from British policy. . . . On the other hand, I want to make it equally plain that we are not prepared to sit by and see the independence of one country after another successively destroyed."

New Site for Tilikum Sought

Publicity Bureau to Seek Location On Causeway For Famous Craft

A new and prominent site for the Tilikum, the "canoe" in which Capt. J. Voss sailed from Victoria and circled the globe, is the aim of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and the Thermopylae Club, whose members have made it their hobby to keep the boat in first-class shape.

At a meeting of the bureau directors yesterday afternoon, Captains J. A. Phillips and C. Goring, representing the Thermopylae Club, stressed the fact that the Tilikum in its present location, the grounds of the Crystal Garden, was "hidden" from the eyes of tourists.

The delegation urged that the craft, which they described as being "the finest monument to seamanship in the world," be placed where it would not fail to attract the attention of the traveling public, preferably in the Causeway area. They also noted that the club was prepared to rig the ship out complete, paint it and make a good display of it. The club would look after it as well.

The plan finally won the approval of the directors, but not before some hesitation. They agreed that the present location of the Tilikum, which is owned by the bureau, having been brought here by that organization after it was found in the mud-banks of the Thames, was rather out of the way, but thought it was well protected at present, as it was under the eye of the Garden watchman. They did not want to place the craft where it could be abused.

The Thermopylae representatives believed that the boat would be in no more danger of being tampered with than it was now if placed somewhere along the Causeway. They said the Tilikum had suffered damage recently. The cabin had been damaged, and in the hull were found a number of empty beer and whisky bottles. The meeting decided to leave the matter of securing a new location in the hands of G. H. Stevens, president, and G. I. Warren, Victoria Publicity Commission, and asked the aid of the two captains on the matter. It was readily granted.

Mr. Stevens expressed a vote of thanks to the visitors for the club's keen interest in the boat. Mr. Warren gave the meeting an outline of Phil Raymond's recent contact trip in the south on behalf of the bureau, and told of the "See B.C. First" caravan staged by the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade through the Cariboo country, in which the bureau was well represented.

ESQUIMALT LAYS PLANS FOR WORKS

Reeve to See Mayhew And Pearson; Sidewalks And Roads First Needs

Esquimalt took the first step toward a Dominion-provincial-assisted public works program last night when the municipal council, at a special meeting, empowered Reeve Alexander Lockley to negotiate with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Hon. George S. Pearson, provincial Minister of Labor, under the Municipal Assistance Act.

Under the scheme the Dominion and provincial governments jointly provide the cost of labor on works projects while the municipalities pay for material and supervision.

Councillor Albert Heald suggested the municipality set $5,000 as a maximum for its contribution.

The idea of a works program has been inspired by the way in which municipal revenues so far this year have come above expectation. Receipts from sales of reverted property have already exceeded by $7,000 the estimated total for the year, and collections of both current and delinquent taxes are considerably ahead of the figure at the same time last year.

The council instructed Reeve Lockley to find out to what type of work the government grants can be applied, and suggested tarred sidewalks as the prime need. Rough grading of two roads through newly-subdivided areas—one a continuation of Dunsmuir Street to Macaulay Street, and the other leading from Esquimalt Road opposite the end of Joffre Street to Old Esquimalt Road—is also being considered.

DUNCAN—Rain dampened the garden party given by the A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Graham Wednesday afternoon. All games had to be abandoned but tea was served under direction of Dorothy Duncan and Eileen Johnson, assisted by Beth Greenhalgh, Loella Kirkham, Joe Hoculogue, Robin Green, and Kyrthia Jobling. A stall of cooked food was in charge of Mollie Orton, Mary Long, Frances Smith and Barbara Stephenson. The affair was opened by Mrs. F. G. Christmas.

In the evening the entertainment was carried on in St. John's Hall, where refreshments were served by Dorothy Duncan and Eileen Johnson. Games were in charge of Neil Grant, Selma Shaw, Clive Hoskins, Leslie Crampton and G. Mortimore. Lester Halling and John Sterling manipulated the radio loud-speaker.

Miss P. Carr Hilton was winner of the 9-hole medal competition played on the links here Wednesday afternoon with a net score of 48, handicap 9½.

WOULD BAN NICKEL TO AGGRESSORS

WINNIPEG (CP)—Embargo on exports of Canadian nickel to Germany and Japan was urged yesterday by Miss Margaret Clay, Victoria, at the convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"We Canadian women must work for the time when employment in Canada does not depend upon the wholesale murder of innocent women and children in nonaggressor countries," she said.

Miss Clay said last year Canada had supplied Germany with three-quarters of her requirements of nickel and profits of the International Nickel Company had risen from some $26,000,000 in 1935 to $50,000,000 in 1937. Canada's total exports to Japan in 1937 were $21,500,000, of which she claimed $17,500,000 was for war materials.

Canadian women should boycott stockings made from Japanese silk, she added. "Every pair of silk stockings bought by a Canadian woman supplies money for four rounds of ammunition with which the Japanese murder innocent Chinese women and children."

Miss Margaret Wherry of Montreal, chairman of the international relations committee, said women must work to preserve rights of democracy. She regretted dissolution of two sister federations, those in Austria and Czechoslovakia, with suffering and hardship to their members.

Miss Wherry said the greatest problem facing the international federation was that of helping refugees from the unfortunate countries that had been taken over by dictators.

International action to gain for women equal legal status with men was predicted in the report prepared by Miss Dorothy A. Heneker, Montreal lawyer and the federation's liaison officer at Geneva. She forecast that many countries may soon pass laws to this end.

"It is disquieting to learn," Miss Heneker's letter commented, "that during the past few months the drastic budget reductions made by the finance committee of the League of Nations necessitated reductions in the staff of sections engaged in social and welfare work."

Among the striking hat fashions seen at Ascot race meet in England recently were those shown above. Right, tulle and flower model adapted from peasant brides of Brittany. Lower, the hat has sprays of wheat, held together at the centre by cabbage leaves and roots.

Musical Modes Are Schiaparelli's Latest

Musical Boxes Worn
At Waist; Hats
To Be More Freakish

From MATHILDE
Times Correspondent

LONDON — At Schiaparelli's mid-season collection this week I really thought I had wandered into a concert by mistake.

The display was opened by a long-limbed mannequin, who glided in to the strains of tinkling music which seemed to emanate from nowhere in particular, until I found that it was actually coming from her handbag, which was shaped like a tiny black concertina. It is an intriguing idea, but I personally would hesitate to start "playing my bag" in any crowded street.

There was more music to follow. A white net dance frock was smothered with iridescent pastel sequins worked in the form of notes of music. A mere flick of the finger was all that was required to set in motion the tiny musical box concealed in a minute buckle on the belt of this model.

An exotic Oriental green crepe dinner gown had a round neckline ornamented with a deep band lavishly decorated with brilliant paillettes to represent a stave of music and the first few bars of a well-known dance tune.

VIOLIN EARRINGS

One mannequin showed an amber crepe formal gown, extremely décolleté, and wore with it an enchanting pair of gilt earrings fashioned in the shape of tiny violins.

Even hats and day clothes were affected by this sudden craze for melody. Concealed in the crown of an innocent-looking felt Breton sailor was a little music-box which played a naive tune; and a tobacco printed silk dress, which particularly appealed to me, was patterned with yellow cymbals.

There was a lovely sweep of line about all the dresses in this collection—a great deal of draping just below the hips, and bustle effects at the back.

Very deceptive was a long-sleeved dinner gown. A finger-tip-length blue net jacket was divested to reveal a dove-grey crepe evening gown, encrusted with sequins on the bodice, and with a bustle at the front of the skirt just above the knees.

A flame chiffon dance frock was embroidered with blue and gold metal thread in a broad band round the knees, whence the skirt flared out in a broad sweep to the hem. A bunch of colored charms (the same as those worn on link bracelets) dangled from the draped bodice.

A great surprise was provided by the introduction of the "harem skirt" for day wear. This fashion has been seen in evening gowns, but not for suits and afternoon frocks.

I noticed in particular a green Paisley silk blouse teamed with an apricot linen jacket and skirt. The hem of the skirt was caught up and bunched in front, while hanging quite straight and tailored at the back. A navy Shantung suit worn with a plum silk blouse had the same unusual hemline.

TALKING THROUGH YOUR HAT

Schiaparelli is forgetting all about pastels for the summer and showing instead clothes in bright colors—lovely jewel shades of topaz, sapphire and emerald.

A brilliant lipstick red and black printed afternoon silk dress was shown with a bright turquoise coat and black accessories. With this ensemble went one of the oddest hats I have seen for a long time. This was a shallow, crowned model in black faille trimmed with bows of black, with a wide brim of transparent black faille stiffened net, worn tilted so far forward that the rim reached the chin, and the wearer could look through it.

There were several variations on this style, but more eccentric still were the "bird-cage" models. Several light straws had crowns made of what appeared to be wicker-work. Inside were perched exotic birds whose bright plumage matched the colors of the accompanying dresses.

Some "dressy" hats, destined to be worn at cocktail time, at the races, and even in the evening, were made entirely of heavy tulle. They were very big, shaped like fluted discs, poised on the forehead so that the face was veiled by them, and apparently held in place by faith alone.

Lace Curtains for Autumn Hats

Lilly Dache Shows Striking Models;
Queen's Influence

By MARY E. PLUMMER
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Women's hats next winter may be adorned with a lace curtain.

The new winter hats will placate men who scoffed at the Easter models. There's plenty of black lace (men like it) and "magnet red" (men look twice at girls in red evening gowns) and green (Salvador Dali, the artist, who designed a come-hither exhibit at the New York World's Fair, says, "The color of absinthe will dominate the year 1941. Everything will be greenish.")

Two or three inches of black lace dropped from the shadowy brims of some 1939-40 winter models Lilly Dache showed yesterday.

Some hats were magnet red, the rich shade of royal velvet, trimmed with little gold hearts and magnets, and others were serpent green.

Trims showed the influence of Queen Elizabeth's recent visit in hats often adorned with soft feathers.

Iridescent bird breasts formed little hats worn with regal furs. Soft black feathers curled from the back of another bonnet.

High Civic Costs Now Worry Scots

EDINBURGH (CP)—The municipal treasurers of Edinburgh and Glasgow don't see eye to eye concerning rising civic expenditures. Treasurer Will Darling of Scotland's capital laments it. Treasurer E. Greenhill of her largest city commends it as a sign of improved living conditions.

Treasurer Darling centred his disapproval upon the community centre, which he called "the new megalomania of a disordered mind."

He told the annual conference of the Institute of Municipal Treasurers and Accountants he didn't believe "community centres should be created to descend from the heavens like a new Jerusalem. They should grow up from the community."

Darling continued: "They cannot be superimposed on a community already suffering. Down in their new houses they do not need Grecian dances or carrots in their window boxes.

But Treasurer Greenhill told the Institute "the upward curve in public expenditure is... an inevitable trend for the ultimate advantage of the people as a whole." An enlightened electorate, he added, ought not to say: "What is the amount of our rates?" but "What is the health of our municipality?"

WEDDINGS

POLITANO-BROWN

Garden City United Church was the scene of a wedding last evening when Catherine Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brown of Whiteside Avenue, Seven Oaks, Saanich, was united in marriage to Fidele, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Politano, Wilkinson Road, Saanich. Rev. William Allan officiated, and the church was beautifully decorated with lilies, sweet peas, roses and evergreens.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attractively attired in a white net gown trimmed with narrow lace and true love knots with full skirt and large balloon sleeves. Mrs. J. C. McKinnon, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor, and wore a gown of pale mauve, with green veil trimmed with orchids. Miss Hilda Brown assisted as bridesmaid, attired in pale yellow net with green net doll's hat trimmed with violets. The matron of honor and bridesmaid each carried bouquets of sweet peas, anemones, gypsophila and fern. The Misses Marie and Joan Brown, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids, the former gracefully attired in blue net with doll's hat to match, carrying a colonial bouquet, and the latter in pale pink with doll's hat to match and carrying a colonial bouquet.

Mr. Joseph Politano, brother of the groom, was groomsmen, and Messrs. Louie and Albert Politano, brothers of the groom, and W. Brown, brother of the bride, were ushers. Miss Elsie Fryatt played the wedding music, and accompanied Mrs. M. Pebernet, who sang the solo, "Be-cause."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hampton Hall, Burnside Road, where the guests were received by Mrs. W. P. Brown in a gown of mauve and old rose with white hat and gloves, and assisted by Mrs. P. Politano in a black and white silk gown with matching accessories and corsage bouquet. The hall was decorated with flowers and ferns, the bride's table being covered with a Brussels embroidered cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake with silver tapers in crystal holders.

The happy couple were the recipients of many gifts, including a trillite lamp from the staff of Messrs. Payne and Townsend, and a handsome dinner set from the fellow workers of the New Method Cleaners and Dyers, Victoria.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. V. Arnold, Seaside View, Malahat, and the Misses N. and R. Palermo of Olympia.

Mr. and Mrs. Politano left with the midnight boat, and will spend their honeymoon in a trip to Seattle and Olympia, the bride traveling in a wine crepe dress with wine hat and accessories and powder-blue coat. On their return they will take up residence on Wilkinson Road.

McALLISTER-COLLARD

In the presence of relatives and a few close friends of the contracting parties, the marriage was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, 1932 Quamichan Avenue, at 3 p.m. on July 1 between Jeanne Ernestine, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Collard, and Mr. Jack Goforth McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. G. McAllister of Vancouver. The ceremony, conducted by the Rev. F. R. G. Dredge of Oak Bay United Church, took place before the fireplace which was banked with baskets of pink and white snapdragon and delphinium.

The bride wore an afternoon frock of Regina blue, a doll hat of white cobble straw and white accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink rosebuds with pansies and sweet peas in shades of blue.

At the reception which followed, the tea table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a cut glass bowl of pink-shaded sweet peas. Tea honors were performed by Mrs. C. H. Greene and Mrs. S. G. Peele, while assisting in serving were Mrs. Hubert Locke and the Misses Kay Whitehouse, Mary Irving, Mary Jellis and Maxine Collard. The wedding cake stood on a separate table and was surrounded with calla lilies and fern.

Out-of-town guests included the parents of the groom and Mr. Don Challinger of Vancouver; Mrs. W. L. Doss and daughters Reita and Margaret of Denver, Colorado, aunt and cousins of the bride; and Mr. Cathcart of Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister left on the afternoon boat for Seattle and Portland, the bride wearing a topcoat of white over her wedding ensemble. They will make their home at Kelsey Bay, B.C.

The bride graduated in 1938 from the Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria, and since then has been on the staff of the hospital at Port Alberni.

Flippant Question Floors Chairman

SASKATOON (CP)—When the hour came for opening the question box at the convention of music teachers here, Thursday, Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison, charged with the responsibility of answering queries, found only one slip of paper in the box. The paper carried one brief, typewritten question, which Mrs. Morrison declined to answer publicly.

She penned a note to the chairman, explaining it was her opinion delegates attending the convention knew all there was to know about music, and begged to be excused.

The solitary question was: "Why does our convention not spend less money on song, and more money upon wine and women?"

Business Women Say Unemployment Is Badly Handled

Convention Speakers
Blame Governments;
Records Incomplete

WINNIPEG (CP)—Unemployment was the main theme of discussion last night at the convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, with governments in the Dominion being accused of failing to meet the problem.

Mrs. Pearl Eaton, Vancouver, vice-president for British Columbia, declared in her report that the government had utterly failed to meet the unemployment situation. She described the situation in British Columbia in connection with employment needs of women.

LACK OF RECORDS

The need for more complete government records to determine the total number of unemployed in Canada was stressed by Miss Margaret E. Thompson, vice-president for Alberta. The general superintendent of the employment service of Alberta had stated no governmental authority possessed information as to the total number of jobless in the country, including those not on relief, but supported by their families, she added.

"It seems that the figures for the Dominion are of very little value in determining the actual amount of unemployment," she said. "Persons registered with the employment service may or may not be on relief; while persons on relief, on farms, for example, may not be unemployed."

Miss Harriett E. Turnbull, Regina, Saskatchewan vice-president, reported a League of Women Voters had been formed in her province to make women more conscious of the fact certain responsibilities went along with democratic government, and that it was their duty to take an interested, informed part in civic, national and international affairs.

I.O.D.E. to Campaign To Boost Democracy

TORONTO (CP)—The national executive committee of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire yesterday empowered a special committee to investigate and report on the essentials of a campaign to call to the attention of the Canadian public their advantages as residents of a British democracy.

The campaign was authorized at the annual meeting of the national chapter.

The president, Mrs. W. B. Horkins, and the League of Nations convener, Mrs. Macintosh Bell, were appointed representatives to the League of Nations Assembly.

Twin Debutantes To Be Presented

LONDON—Twin debutantes, Thalia and Anthea Gordon, will be dressed alike when they attend the first July court at Buckingham Palace, but Thalia's frock will be in tulle and her slightly younger sister's in taffeta.

Their picture frocks are really charming and both have been designed to give the girls the dignified court walk that is so rare in these days of sports and hiking.

Miss Thalia Gordon's white tulle gown is made on crinoline lines with an upward slant giving to the double rows of net richness to emphasize her carriage. Her train is in silver lame lined with white net.

Miss Anthea's taffeta gown has a band of ruching on the hemline at the back, making the dress stand out gracefully under the from-the-shoulder taffeta train, thus avoiding the usual gap between dress and train.

Tag Tomorrow to Aid Rescue Home

Salvation Army's Annual Appeal; Many Girls Helped

The annual tag day will be held here tomorrow in aid of the Salvation Army Rescue Home, which cared for 233 unfortunate girls and their babies in British Columbia last year. This meant a stay of over 11,000 days in the Army Institution. The work in this home is ever becoming an increasingly valuable asset to the city of Victoria and surrounding district.

Last year's appeal resulted in the sum of $765, and the Army hopes that Victorians will respond to this year's appeal with the same generosity.

Without seeking publicity or praise, the Rescue Home has for many years carried on a community service work, which has had far-reaching and beneficial results. The Salvation Army now operates a chain of similar homes across Canada, in which hundreds of unfortunate girls in need of the care the army can give, are looked after. The standard of nursing is pronounced to be excellent, those giving their lives to this great work being experts in their line.

The hospital side of the work is only one feature of the activities of this home. The real objective of the institution is to build character and inculcate principles that will remake broken lives. Remnants in life's struggle have always been prized and remade in wondrous manner by the Salvation Army.

Persons wishing to contribute by mail to the "Babies' Day" fund are requested to forward donations to Adjutant A. Dale, the Salvation Army, Box 781.

Rev. Father Crothers, priest-in-charge of the Sacred Heart Church, thanked all who so generously assisted in making the affair such a success, mentioning the good friends from St. Andrew's Cathedral parish.

Great Lakes Tipping Towards Southwest

MILWAUKEE (CP)—Water high enough to bury all but the tops of the skyscrapers of the cities now bordering the upper Great Lakes existed only a few thousand years ago.

Evidence of fluctuations of hundreds of feet in the levels of Lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron and St. Clair, was produced for the geological and geography sections of the American Association of Science by Prof. George Stanley of the University of Michigan.

The geological testimony is in beaches built up during the ancient rises. Two of these beaches, known as the Algonquin and the Nipissing, now are high above water in the northern areas and below water along the southern rims of the lakes region.

Two huge movements of nature caused them, Prof. Stanley said. First was glaciers, which dammed up the outlets of the lakes, causing rises of hundreds of feet. When ice melted, the waters dropped and the beaches were left high and dry.

The other great movement was weight of the glaciers to the north. They depressed the land so that the entire northeast sank. When the glaciers melted, the earth's crust in that area "rebounded" slowly. This rise took the northern beaches high above water level. It sank the southern end of the beaches, like tipping a great platter.

This tipping of the Great Lakes toward the southwest, Prof. Stanley said, is still going on, very slowly.

Australia Registers Defence Resources

CANBERRA, Australia (CP)—Supplementary to the National Register which the federal government will bring into operation immediately its introduction is allowed by parliament, a compulsory register of the productive capacity and resources of industries of defence significance will probably be taken in Australia.

Power to compile such a register is contained in a bill now before parliament to establish the new supply department. The Minister of Supply, Reginald Casey, explains an industrial as well as national register is needed because Australian factory managements and industrial organizations have shown little disposition to co-operate voluntarily with the government. Questionnaires which had been sent to industrial concerns some time ago had received a poor response, only about a third of them being returned, the minister said.

55 FLOOD VICTIMS BODIES RECOVERED

JACKSON, Ky. (AP)—The 55th body was recovered today in eastern Kentucky's mountain flood. Forty-one persons still are missing.

Property damage estimates run into the millions. Disease-prevention work was rushed throughout the area. In Morehead, county health director Dr. T. A. E. Evans issued a bulletin ordering all persons inoculated for typhoid fever. Dr. Evans said "danger from disease is great." Already 1,200 have been inoculated there.

Dr. P. E. Blackerby, assistant Kentucky health commissioner, said in Louisville it would be impossible to reckon the total loss of life and property for several days. Mayor Warren C. Lippin of Morehead, Rowan County, estimated the property loss in that college town alone would approximate $1,000,000, and Dean Thomas P. Coper of the University of Kentucky college of agriculture said reports from his field agents indicated damage to crops and farms in that county would be about $500,000.

Burton Wins British Golf

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

SO THE NEXT heavyweight title fight is going to be Joe Louis vs. Bob Pastor. Promoter Mike Jacobs announced plans for the bout yesterday. Lou Nova, who was promised a crack at Louis after he bludgeoned Max Baer from the picture, has been sidetracked in favor of the former New York University football player. Nova is going to get the job of being the next opponent for poly-poly Tony Galento.

It is almost certain that Louis' next start will be in his home town, Detroit, where Pastor scored a tremendous hit a few weeks ago in shelling another native Detroit, Roscoe Toles. Pastor looks like the only opponent in sight who will draw important money with Louis and Detroit is the only place where they can get it. Briggs Stadium will be the site.

Pastor acquired the nickname "Bicycle Bob" when he ran for the only time in his career in staying 10 rounds with the then supposedly invincible Louis two years ago. A capable fighter of Louis' age, Pastor is big enough, standing 5 feet 11 1/2 inches, and weighing 185 pounds. Rating the negro off his affair with Galento, anything can happen if Pastor keeps his promise to sail into the Brown Bomber.

Louis lost much more prestige against Galento than he did against Max Schmeling in their first trip, or against Tommy Farr, who mauled his way through 15 rounds.

There he was in the ring with a bloke everybody felt sorry for, yet the fight wasn't seconds old before Galento sent the so-called dark destroyer reeling with a left hook to the cheek.

It was fortunate for Louis that this punch was just a trifle high. As it was, Galento easily might have turned in one of the more astounding ring upsets had he been able to wrap two or three punches together.

But Galento, who couldn't possibly have been put in shape for a contest of any duration, was tired and breathing heavily through his mouth after tossing his introductory punches, and in the second round the butchery settled down to what the crowd had expected.

Every time the soft-skinned Galento was hit the spot was either cut or it puffed up like a poisoned pup. Finally, a brutal right, flush to a totally undefended chin, rolled Two-ton Tony on the mat. The price was against the battling barrel finishing the round, let alone getting up, but he struggled to his pins, rushed to close quarters and survived.

It was a left hook to the chin following a right to a point under the heart, delivered by Galento in the third round at a time when you wouldn't have wagered a dime on his chance to last another minute, that gave the spectators their supreme thrill.

Louis actually flew through the air and landed flat on his back, but when he got up without taking a count, Galento was too far gone to do anything about it.

English Professional Has 72-Hole Score of 290 To Capture Open Crown

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—"Deadeye" Dick Burton, English professional, holed a 12-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 18th green of the Royal and Ancient course today to win the British open golf championship with a 72-hole score of 290.

With a closing 71, two under par, the long-hitting Briton edged out another slugger, young Johnny Bulla of Chicago, and Greensboro, N.C., who finished with a 73 for 292.

Bulla, the only American in the last day's field of 34, fired a 71 to Burton's 77 this morning as they tied at 219, four shots off the pace set by Jack Fallon. Fallon and all the other contenders, including defending champion Reg Whitcombe, folded up in their last trips over the wind-blown old course.

Bulla had been in the clubhouse almost two hours before Burton came in with his title-winning total.

Bulla stood on the clubhouse porch with a smile frozen on his face and watched Burton come marching up the 18th fairway needing a four to win the title. Dick's drive was terrific, just short of the green on the 364-yard hole, and he chipped up within 12 feet of the pin.

The Cheshire pro stepped up, glanced at the thousands of Scots rigid with anxiety, and rammed the ball home for his birdie three and the championship.

Burton's card follows:

Castilloux Whips Rodak

Canadian Featherweight Champ in Smart Victory Over U.S. Contender

TORONTO (CP)—Rugged Dave Castilloux, Canadian featherweight champion, punched his way a little closer to a crack at the world title by scoring a unanimous 10-round decision over Leo Rodak of Chicago here last night.

The Canadian weighed 129 1/2 and Rodak 130 1/2.

The grim Montrealer piled up a long lead on points in the early rounds by poking his left repeatedly into Rodak's face. It wasn't until the late minutes that Rodak, rated by the National Boxing Association No. 1 contender for Joey Archibald's world crown, started to carry the fight.

Then Rodak was well behind and Castilloux was coasting in.

Jack O'Sullivan of Toronto shot a terrific right uppercut to the jaw of Tommy Osborne of Montreal to score a technical knockout over the former British Empire amateur heavyweight champion in the last round of their six round semi-final.

Radials Whip St. Saviours

Score 4 to 2 Victory in Semifinal of Dominion Cup Soccer Playdowns

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Radials have a good measure of revenge for the defeat of St. Saviour's handed them in the Province Cup final last Saturday.

Wednesday they came from behind twice to beat the Tigers 4 to 2 and win a final berth in the Dominion soccer series, British Columbia section, against Vancouver St. Andrews.

Aggressive all the way, Radials were full value for their victory, displaying a much better style of passing than did the Saints.

Half time saw the teams deadlocked 1 to 1.

St. Saviours opened the counting in the first half after five minutes, when Doug McKay drove a shot on Watson from the right wing. The Radial goalkeeper got the ball safely, but jugged it as he went to clear, and Tommy Milstead, racing in fast, bungled it over the line.

THE SCORE

The Tiger lead lasted only 20 minutes, and then Hap Smith made the play for the tying counter. He finished off a Radial drive by picking the ball on the goal line and lofting it in front for Norm Kerfoot, who laced it and headed it home. After that tally Radials dominated play for the remainder of the half.

After the breather, St. Saviours assumed command of the play and directed a continuous assault on the Radial goal. After 10 minutes McKay cut in from the right with the sphere and sent a perfectly-timed pass to Milstead, who made no mistake as he drove it past Watson.

It wasn't until 27 minutes of the second half that Radials could break away, and then Hap Smith did the trick, firing a sizer that knotted the count a second time.

Radials went in front for the first time five minutes later when, after forcing a pair of corners, Jackie Johnston's flag kick landed in a melee in front of the Tigers' net and Hughie Greer rushed in to drive it home. Johnson himself put the issue beyond doubt in another five minutes when his hard shot from the right wing beat Kulai a fourth time.

BASIL JAMES IS SHAKEN IN FALL

Ranking Jockey Loses Control of Horse During Parade at Empire City

NEW YORK (AP)—Basil James, considered by many turf experts as the best in the business, was thrown and severely shaken up at Empire City track Wednesday.

Aboard T. P. Morgan's three-year-old maiden filly, Scotch Flower, the 21-year-old ace lost control of his mount while the field was parading past the grandstand.

The filly darted for the outside rail. James was forced to leap from the saddle just before Scotch Flower attempted to jump. James did not seem seriously injured.

The horse escaped with cuts and bruises, and its backers lost their money, since a horse is declared a starter once it has left the paddock.

Whichce Entered In Gold Cup Race

INGLEWOOD, Cal. (AP)—Townsend B. Martin's eastern favorite, Cravat, drew top weight of 126 pounds for the $50,000 Gold Cup handicap July 22, while Kayak II, pride of the west, will go in one pound lighter.

Racing secretary Webb Everett released the weight figures today for the Hollywood Park special at one and a quarter miles.

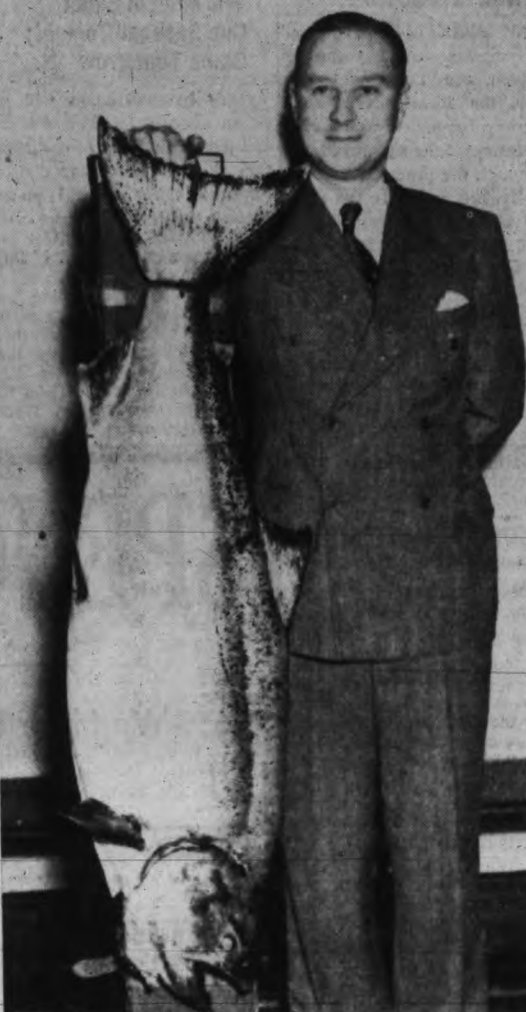

Kayak II, C. S. Howard's Argentine, won the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, finishing 11 lengths in front of Cravat. Whichce, owned by Major A. C. Taylor of Vancouver, will carry 114 pounds in the Gold Cup event.

The catch won Tervo the coveted gold button award of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. It was hooked on a Mae West spoon.

Clubs in Both American and National Baseball Leagues Moved Around

Like a couple of boys who have eaten green apples, the National and American Baseball Leagues are experiencing severe and unpredictable disturbances in their middle regions.

Brooklyn Dodgers are in third place in the National League today by one percentage point, and Chicago Cubs, who climbed to the same spot Tuesday, are in sixth by a single point. St. Louis Cardinals have skidded to fourth and Pittsburgh Pirates risen to fifth.

In the American League Cleveland Indians were ambushed out of third and into fifth place with Detroit Tigers ascending to third and Chicago White Sox to fourth. In addition, Philadelphia Athletics are blowing down the backs of the sixth-place Washington Senators.

Yesterday's menu of five games contributed a full measure to the muddled situation.

CINCINNATI WINS

Cincinnati Reds came from behind to snare St. Louis Cardinals 7 to 4 in a night game.

Pittsburgh Pirates doused Dizzy Dean into his first defeat of the season 7 to 2 with a 13-hit attack which was shouldered by Larry French after he relieved Dean in the fourth.

The other National League clubs had an open date, as did the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox in the American.

Jack Knott came up with a five-hit pitching job to beat Cleveland 8 to 1, the Indians' third loss in a row.

The Tigers, who moved into third place Wednesday while idle, took advantage of the opportunity to strengthen their position by outslugging St. Louis Browns to win 9 to 5.

Philadelphia pounced on the Cardinals 12 to 4.

Toronto Argos in Final

Canadian Oarsmen Defeat Australian Crew in Cup Event at Royal Henley

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng. (CP)—A smiling boatload of Toronto Argonauts boomed to victory in the semifinal of the Grand Challenge Cup at the Royal Henley Regatta today, defeating a laboring Sydney, Australia, eight by three lengths after trailing for the first half of the 15/16-mile course.

The Canadians followed the Aussies to Fawley and then sprinted 200 yards, leaving the Sydney crew in a hopeless position and returning a time of seven minutes 35 seconds, 14 seconds.

Joe Burk of Philadelphia scored an easy victory to go into the finals in defence of the diamond sculls. He finished approximately nine lengths in front of P. Allnutt, Cambridge University.

Barbo to Drive Duchess' Car

Famous Portland Racer In Langford Speedway Races Tomorrow Evening

Not only will ace racing driver, Swede Linskog, Seattle, have little Chick Barbo, Portland driver to contend with at tomorrow evening's international auto race meet at the Langford Speedway—Barbo took him down a peg at the last meet by taking the main event away from him for the first time this season—but he'll have the Duchess, No. 6 car, from Portland in the lime-light with his powerful No. 1 car.

Barbo beat the Swede with car No. 27, owned by Jimmy Symes, Seattle. The Duchess, No. 6, is supposed to be two jumps ahead of it and with Barbo at the wheel, should give the fans something to write home about.

Symes will be driving the No. 27 car, which puts him, as in past meets here, along with the best. Lou McMurtry, popular Seattle driver, will be in once more with his 62 car.

Eight local pilots and their cars will make a total of 12 cars taking part at the meet. They will be headed by No. 1 local driver, Bert Sutton, in the big No. 1 local car, who can hand out a worry or two, and does. Others taking part will be Jimmy Laird, No. 2; Digger Caldwell, No. 5; Jerry Vantreigh, No. 7; Fred Carson, No. 8; Jimmy Wells, a new driver in a new car, No. 9; Joe Moore, No. 10, and the No. 4 car, the driver to be announced later.

The usual helmet dash, heat races, match race and main event will make up the program. The time trials will start at 7:45.

Lacrosse Star Is Suspended

Ken Featherston of Salmonbellies Hits Referee; Adanacs Win

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Ken Featherston, New Westminster Salmonbellies, forward star and league-leading goal scorer, will not wear his uniform again until he has explained to Inter-city box lacrosse commissioners his actions in last night's game here when he fought with Referee "Speedy" Freeman as the Fishmen lost a 21 to 11 decision to Adanacs.

James A. McConaghy, commission chairman, said today Featherston had been "indefinitely suspended" and that he would have to appear before a commission meeting, probably within a week.

McConaghy said Featherston struck Referee Freeman after the latter had handed him a penalty for tripping Jimmy Douglas of Adanacs.

The Adanacs win placed them in a tie for first place in the Inter-city League with Vancouver Burrards. The latter have a good chance to break out in front again tonight, however, when they tangle with North Shore Indians in Vancouver.

BLACKBURN, England (CP)—Blackburn Rovers, Football League second division champions this year, made a profit of £7,075 ($33,252) last season, and reduced their deficit to £19,233 ($89,395).

LONDON (CP)—The Football League made a profit of £13,311 ($84,600) last season. Jubilee celebrations entailed expenditure of £1,526 ($7,172).

Two Cricket Games Carded Tomorrow

At Macdonald Park, Five C's will oppose Victoria, while University Incoqs will meet the visiting Covichan cricketers at the University School grounds.

Games will start at 2:15. Five C's line-up follows: Quainton, J. Payne, G. Payne, Griffin, Harper, Attwell, Peers, Comley, Edwards, Petch and Nixon.

Essex Registers Cricket Victory

LONDON (CP)—Essex bowlers proved too good for Somerset in an English county cricket match concluded yesterday, the eastern team winning by an innings and 40 runs. Somerset was dismissed for totals of 127 and 187, Essex compiling 354 runs.

Close of play scores in other first class matches started Wednesday follow:

Surrey 259 (Howarth five for 74); Worcestershire 226 for six wickets, at Worcester.

Players 270; Gentlemen 158 for seven, at Lords.

West Indies 234 and 116 for six wickets; Yorkshire 114 (Constantine five for 28, Clarke five

Bisley Rifle Meet to Open

Crack Shots of Empire Go Into Action Monday; One-week Affair

BISLEY CAMP, Eng. (CP)—Army atmosphere will be intensified next week when crack military shots from Canada and other parts of the Empire open fire in the National Rifle Association's annual shoot.

This year the international situation forced curtailment of the meeting to one week. Regulars and equipment were needed for the more serious job of training the forces and preparing for "an emergency."

This means the Canadians and other Empire military shots will not only have to complete the full two weeks' schedule of competitions in one week, but they will take their turn in the butts, flashing the placing of shots in the targets back to the firing line, anywhere from 200 to 900 or 1,000 yards distant.

They will also take their turn at the tables back of the firing line, recording the shots. This will release many regulars.

ENDURANCE CONTEST

"Some of the boys think the program looks like an endurance contest," smilingly commented Col. C. B. Price, commandant of the Canadian team.

He was quick to add the Canadians are not complaining "because it's as fair to us as to everybody else."

If a crowded program is any disadvantage, the Canadians at least have the edge in one respect over their rivals from the British Isles and elsewhere. They were first on the spot among the visiting teams, and have been putting in some valuable practice.

"The team is shaking down well," Col. Price affirmed. "They have certainly found the range and they seem to feel right at home. In fact I don't hesitate to say I feel confident we'll put up a good show this year."

There are 16 shooting members on the Canadian team, including 10 who have shot at Bisley before.

Longshoremen Build Up Lead

Extend Lead Over New Method Softballers By Beating Kentractors

Defeated earlier this week by the New Method Laundry nine, Manager Jim Leckie's Victoria Longshoremen crashed into the win column last night to extend their lead to one and a half games over the idle laundrymen. They handed Kentractors a 10 to 6 beating at Victoria West Park.

The other A section softball game between Douglas Tire Shop and Camerons, scheduled for Athletic Park, was canceled because of wet grounds.

Art Carr started on the mound for the Longshoremen, but was yanked in the third when the tractor men started to get to him. Ralph Bonner was rushed in to replace him with the bags loaded. After having one run scored against him in his opening frame in the box, Bonner turned in a shutout performance.

Canadian Scottish scored their second victory of the week in D section by defeating Admirals 23 to 9. Rays and Centrals fought with Rays taking a 20 to 19 win. The grocery men tied the score in the free-hitting game at 19 to 19 in the last of the ninth and got the marginal tally in the next inning.

WOMEN'S GOLF

In the women's two-ball foursomes held at the Colwood Golf Club, Mrs. J. H. Richardson and Mrs. A. Straith were the winners with a score of 104-28-76. Mrs. B. Hetey and Mrs. A. E. Osborough were the runners-up with 101-25-77 1/2.

Beats Cooke After Five Bitter Sets

Portlander Puts Up Great Fight Before Going Under 2-6, 8-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Chicago, beat his roommate and doubles partner, Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., 2-6, 8-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, today in the all-American final of the England tennis championship. Though he was within a point of losing the first two sets, Riggs played with sublime nonchalance and pulled Cooke back almost as he liked. He never really looked like a loser after the start of the fourth set.

Riggs, making his debut at Wimbledon, now has won 13 straight from Cooke, who was not even considered good enough by the United States Lawn Tennis Association to have his full expenses paid to the tournament. The only other American ever to win the Wimbledon title on his first visit was Ellsworth Vines in 1932.

Riggs got a valuable lead in the fifth and final set, but Cooke dragged him back level at 2-2. However, Bobby broke through his roommate's service for a vital advantage in the fifth game when Bobby missed two whistling baseline drives by inches. Bobby won the sixth to love for a 4-2 lead. After that he simply ran away as he liked.

Alberta Eleven Whips Victoria

Local Cricketers Suffer First Defeat in Vancouver Tournament

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alberta's touring cricketers scored their first victory in British Columbia's annual cricket week yesterday, defeating Victoria by five wickets.

The prairie visitors retired the Victoria eleven for 133 runs, scoring 138 for five wickets in reply. Alberta had suffered two losses, one Tuesday and the other Wednesday.

Result of yesterday's play left four teams tied in the series with two wins and one defeat each—Burrards, Vancouver, and Vancouver Wednesday, three Vancouver teams, and Victoria. Final matches are scheduled for today.

In other games yesterday, Vancouver defeated Burrards by scoring 302 runs and dismissing their opponents for 145, and Vancouver Wednesday downed Okanagan in totals of 135 against 119.

Reg Wenman and Jack Sparks put on 101 runs for Victoria's first wicket, but a deadly spell of bowling by George Pain and Laurie Wright for Alberta disposed of the remaining nine wickets for another 32 runs. Wenman made 60 and Sparks 51 of the Victoria total and no other batsman reached double figures. Pain sent back five men at a cost of 35 runs, and Wright took four wickets for 36, while Pain also made a grand catch in the slips to dismiss Wenman. At one stage of the game six Victoria wickets fell for five runs.

PLAYERS INJURED

W. Tompkins, Alberta captain, and W. J. Tiplin both strained leg muscles on the damp turf while fielding, and were forced to leave the game. Wright pulled a tendon batting, but was able to continue.

St. Stuart took Tiplin's place, and helped Jim Weaver make a fine second-wicket stand for the Albertans. Stuart made 25 and Weaver 36, but after they left two wickets fell cheaply.

With five men out for 90 it was anybody's game. Then E. Cole and Wright hit off the necessary runs, Cole carrying his bat for 37.

In the Vancouver total of 302, the feature was Dr. Harry Warren's not out 107, the first century of his career, his previous best being 97.

The draw follows:

Mrs. Davy, Vic., vs. Mrs. Cropp, B.

Mrs. Hogg, L.H., vs. Mrs. Ormiston, Vic.

Mrs. Hobday, C.P., vs. Mrs. Eastham, B.

Byes—Mrs. P. Taylor, L.H.; Mrs. Etheridge, C.P.; Mrs. Davidson, B.

The key follows—V.W. Victoria West; Vic. Victoria; L.H. Lake Hill; B. Burnside; C.P. Canadian Pacific; Nan. Nanaimo.

The final for the Butchart Cup were played this week on the Victoria West greens. Burnside women won the trophy with a total of six points. Lake Hill, Victoria and Victoria West were runners-up with four points each.

In the rink tournament held recently by the Burnside women the winning rink was skipped by Mrs. Peddie. Mrs. Stewart was second and Mrs. Simmons third.

JOE LOUIS WILL MEET BOB PASTOR

Championship Fight Expected To Be Held in Detroit in September

NEW YORK (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs said yesterday champion Joe Louis and Bob Pastor, the former New York University footballer, would sign for a heavyweight title match.

Although the promoter has not decided when or where the fight would be held, the chances are it will be over the 20 round route in Detroit in September.

Louis and Pastor fought in Madison Square Garden back in 1937, with Louis winning the decision in 10 rounds after Pastor back-peddled most of the way.

Jacobs also wants to reach some decision on the proposed Tony Galento-Lou Nova fight, also slated for this fall, but Galento is unavailable, having gone to Toronto for a refereeing appearance.

COAST LEAGUE

It's four times now that those rampaging Rainiers from Seattle have replaced Los Angeles at the top of the Coast League baseball heap—only to drop back into their customary second place.

This time it was Seattle's loss to Hollywood last night, combined with a Los Angeles win over San Diego, that did the trick.

The Stars nipped Seattle at Hollywood 4 to 3, on Bill Norman's ninth-inning single that scored Frenchy Uhalt. Les Weber pitched the full route for Seattle, allowing 12 hits, while Charley Moncrief and Johnny Bittner gave up eight to the visitors.

Fay Thomas pitched five-hit ball at San Diego as the Angels blanked the Padres 7 to 0. Los Angeles went into the lead by a half game. The Angels and Rainiers haven't been more than a game and a half apart since early June.

At Sacramento, the rejuvenated Senators nicked San Francisco's slipping Seals 2 to 1. Oakland scored twice in the eighth off relief pitcher Ralph Birkofer to nip Portland 6 to 5, at Oakland.

NAVY VICTORS

Pushing across the deciding run in the eighth and final inning, Navy stretched their winning streak with a 10 to 9 victory over Oak Bay at Admirals Road in a second division baseball fixture last night. Eagles advanced into second berth in the Humphries Cup race by beating the Cubs, 7 to 2, at Beacon Hill Park. At Oak Bay Park Pitzer and Nex defeated Brown Bombers, 10 to 2.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 at the Athletic Park the Navy and Eagles, first and second clubs in the second division, will meet. Each club has won its last six games.

Pandora Avenue; Given Suspended Sentence

A 19-year-old girl who was found drunk on Pandora Avenue last night was given suspended sentence by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning. She declined to give the court the name of the person who supplied her with the liquor.

The girl was arrested by Constable George Claydars and Miss Alice Pye, policewoman.

"Who gave you this liquor?" the magistrate asked after the girl pleaded guilty to the charge. "I can't tell you that, sir," was the reply.

"As you are a young girl I'm very reluctant to send you to jail," the court continued. "It is very unfortunate that a girl your age should be brought up on such a charge. This time I will give you suspended sentence, but don't let it happen again."

Three Months for Possessing Motor

Carl Rudolph was sentenced to three months imprisonment by Magistrate Hall when he was convicted in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of retaining possession of a stolen electric motor.

The motor was stolen last October from V. M. Clarke's Garage, View Street. Its identity was discovered when it was taken to the Ascroft Electrical Company for testing by Col. A. E. Harris who was considering its purchase from the accused for $15.

Detective F. Woodburn, who made the arrest, said the accused told him he had purchased the motor from a man he did not know. Part of a stock and die set which was seen on Rudolph's premises and identified by Mr. Clarke as his were thrown into the sea from the Johnson Street Bridge by the accused, Detective Woodburn said Rudolph told him.

The accused, who pleaded not guilty, declined to say anything in his own defence, saying he could add nothing to what he had told police when he was questioned.

IN TOWN TODAY

The Maharana of Dhapampur, ruler of a state in the United Provinces of India, passed through Victoria yesterday on his way from Seattle to Vancouver, accompanied by a retinue of servants and his 13-year-old daughter, Princess Rajendrakumver.

The wealthy Indian potentate is traveling around the world in an effort to assuage his grief over the death of his wife and eldest daughter within a month.

While Ss. Princess Kathleen was in port for an hour yesterday they took a brief sightseeing drive, with the Maharana's physician, Dr. K. B. Pishati, and his secretary, Shimati Sushiladevi Bhatkal.

The Maharana was educated in Great Britain, but observes the traditions of his country and no mention may be made in his hearing of veal, pork or beef.

His own chef travels with him and cooks traditional Indian dishes in hotels, on trains and steamers.

A composer of music, the 55-year-old Maharana speaks several languages fluently.

Miss Edna Phillips of San Francisco, cousin of Martha Phillips, widely-known garden consultant who lectured here three years ago at the annual Spring Garden Festival, has come to Victoria to see some of the gardens which have won the praise of her cousin. She is registered at the Empress Hotel and will remain a week, visiting the public parks and many private gardens.

The monthly meeting of the Palestine Prayer Fellowship has been postponed for one week, and will be held on June 17 at the Gospel Service Hall, Yates and Langley Streets, at 3. The service will be conducted by Mrs. R. L. Krook.

TOWN TOPICS

St. Albans A.Y.F.A. will hold a beach party at Spoon Bay this evening at 8. All members are asked to attend and take along a friend.

Because they failed to file their annual returns with a government office, 800 British Columbia companies have been struck from the rolls of the registrar of companies, according to notice in the B.C. Gazette.

The Canadian Legion Band will give a concert in the Esquimalt Memorial Park under the auspices of the municipal council on Sunday afternoon, from 3 to 4.30. It is hoped that the concert will be the first of a series.

The Knights and Dames of the Thistle will hold their annual basket picnic at Elk Lake on Sunday. Buses will leave the hall at 10.30. A program of sports has been arranged and there will be ice cream and candy for the children.

Horace West, son of Sidney West of 455 Surdey Street, who recently graduated with the degree of "Bachelor of Divinity" from McMaster University, is announced the winner of the John Roberts Scholarship. Mr. West also won the Eugene Harris prize for the best standing in Christian theology. He is a graduate of Victoria College and of University of British Columbia. At present he is the pastor of the Baptist Church at Eden, Ont.

Closing Address By B-I Commissioner

Last night in the First Baptist Church Rev. E. J. Springett concluded his visit to Victoria with an address on "The Coming Perfect Social Order." The chairman was Alderman Capt. Burges Gadsden.

Mr. Springett said that throughout the ages there had been visions of a perfect social order, and while there was good in many of the suggestions put forward, the unfulfilled fault is "we believed we could accomplish them through our own efforts and wisdom. Only by applying and obeying the perfect plan laid down by the Divine Architect as shown in the Bible can we bring about the perfect social order, and if we will ask His help, He will write His laws in our inward parts, take away our hearts of stone, and through us bring about the restoration of the Kingdom of God on earth."

Oxford Groupers Here

Scottish Delegates to World Assembly
For Moral Rearmament Pay Visit

Scotland's champions of the Oxford Group, in kilts and Balmoral bonnets, reached Victoria today on their moral rearmament crusade, enlisting supporters here for the world assembly for moral rearmament in Hollywood, starting July 17.

Following arrival this morning they paid an early call on Mayor McGavin and members of his council at the City Hall, returning later to the Empress Hotel to prepare for a luncheon in the Hudson's Bay Company dining-room at noon. Tomorrow they will be tendered a luncheon by the city at the Empress Hotel at 12.30. They will return to Vancouver on tomorrow night's boat.

"I know the mission you are on. I hope you will be successful," Mayor McGavin said as he greeted each member of the party. He expressed the hope they would enjoy their trip to Hollywood, requested them to sign the mayor's visitor's book and extended an invitation to luncheon tomorrow.

George Marjoribanks, leader of the Scottish party, explained the group traveled across Canada on its way to the California assembly where leaders from all parts of the Empire, from the Far East, European countries and other parts of this continent would gather.

"Our aim is to mobilize a world force adequate to banish war, a world force adequate to make peace permanent, a world force adequate for any crisis," he declared.

RACE WITH TIME

"Moral rearmament is a race with time to remake men and nations. Fear and selfishness have swept the world. Our program is: New men, new nations and a new world."

"Moral rearmament is the greatest gift the Empire can give the world. It is the new thinking, the new leadership, that everybody wants. It is the ordinary man's opportunity to remake the world. It builds confidence between nations. As the mayors of Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto say, in a message we carry with us: 'We believe that moral rearmament can make permanent the spirit of loyalty and unity which their Majesties the King and Queen have awakened in all of us. With this spirit Canada can be a pioneer in leading nations back to sanity and peace."

Mr. Marjoribanks read to the mayor a message from distinguished Scottish leaders, including the Lord Provost of Edinburgh, the Lord Provost of Glasgow, and the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

CLYDESIDE SPOKESMAN

Duncan Corcoran, iron-turner, of Greenock, one of three members of the group from the Clyde-side shipyards, spoke briefly. Most of the ships being turned out on the Clyde were for destruction. The group realized a change of heart was needed in Scotland to make her live again. They had found the means of change in the moral rearmament campaign which was growing steadily through the ranks of the laborers and those in higher positions up to the owners, he said. The owners appreciated the fact confidence was needed to restore industry and that confidence could not come from the present feeling of greed and fear, he added. Relating personal incidents, he recounted changes that had come over some of the workers and noted the improvement had spread up to the civic administration.

"We are using the ordinary fellow to crack greed and fear in our fight for democracy. Democracy is worthwhile and we've got to fight," he said.

Other members of the party are Blyth Ramsay, dockyard laborer, of Greenock; Tom Gillespie, supplies clerk, Greenock dockyard; Sam Reid, commercial pilot, Orkney and Edinburgh; Adam McLean, motor mechanic, Musselburgh; James Cooper, doctor, Orkney; Stuart Smith, former president, University Union, Glasgow; Andrew Mackay, Glasgow University and Inverness; George Wood, Aberdeen; Edinburgh; Henry Macmillan, journalist, Edinburgh; Michael Barrett, Oxford University and Edinburgh; and Loudon Hamilton, Edinburgh.

Accompanying the Scots are Eric Bentley, Toronto; Cecil Broadhurst, Winnipeg; Harold Beckwith, Peshawar; Keith Marshall, Quetta; Mrs. K. Baldwin, Toronto, and Miss Kitty Ross, Toronto.

Local Produce at Wholesale Row

Locally-grown produce is being received on Wholesale Row in larger assortments at the present time.

There are plenty of island raspberries and loganberries available. Strawberries are becoming scarce. Black and red currants grown locally can be had for preserving especially. Local Bing cherries are coming along faster now. Sour cherries are also available. Green pea prices are expected to be reduced this week-end.

A small shipment of Australian oranges of excellent quality was received yesterday. There will be no more of these for another two months. A cargo of bananas arrived this morning.

The first shipment of transparent apples from the Okanagan was received yesterday. Okanagan preserving apricots are expected to start coming in on July 15.

Jexas grapefruit is finished for the season, with arrivals starting again in October. The first shipment of California Alberta peaches came in this afternoon.

More Visitors at Museum This Year

More persons visited the Museum at the Parliament Buildings during the first six months of 1939 than in the same period last year.

From January 1 to June 31, a total of 18,210 persons registered at the Museum, compared with 17,110 persons for the same period of 1938.

Last month 6,092 persons registered, compared with 5,197 persons in June of 1938.

The massive carved oak chairs, with blue leather seats and backs and footrests, made especially for the King and Queen, have attracted widespread attention from tourists. They stand in the centre of the Legislative chamber and may be viewed from several feet away, for visitors are not allowed to pass the golden bars at the main entrance.

At the end of the tourist season the chairs will be preserved in the archives.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Methosin school district will be held in the schoolhouse on Saturday evening, July 8, at 7.30. Election of a trustee and auditor will be included in the general business.

Says Rain Spoils Fine Cherry Crop

Rains of recent weeks have almost ruined the crop of cherries in the garden of James Talbot, 1737 Bank Street, he said this morning in taking exception to a Saanich Fruit Growers' report that the weather had not harmed the cherry crop this year.

Mr. Talbot said his two trees usually produce each year 500 pounds of fine cherries. He estimates this year 95 per cent of the crop is unfit for sale.

John Kyle Speaks On Egyptian Forms At Summer School

How the character of the people of ancient Egypt and the land they live in is preserved in the art forms they left behind them was the theme of an address by John Kyle at this morning's extra-curricular hour at the Summer School of Education.

The talk was the first of a series Mr. Kyle is to give on national art forms. Each nation's art, he said, was the reflection of the character and feelings of its people. Art did not consist only in painting pictures and carving statues, but in "well doing what needs doing."

The effect of geography on the character of the Egyptians was passed on in their art, said Mr. Kyle. Living in a land of intense sunshine they were of a sunny character, intensely interested in living—so much so that their polytheistic religion was much concerned with life after death.

Mr. Kyle also reviewed the physical characteristics of Egypt, which affected its art forms. The straight horizontal and vertical strata of its rock formations were copied in its buildings, following the essential art principle that architecture should be in harmony with the landscape it is set in.

The only wood available was of small dimensions and was cunningly turned and jointed into window gratings. Soft and hard stone were the main materials. Because the first buildings had been made of reeds and clay the slightly sloping walls and the horizontally-bound pillars of that first architecture were preserved in stone.

The massiveness of Egyptian monuments came from the large and ready supply of slave labor, provided by prisoners of war and their descendants.

Mr. Kyle spoke in the auditorium of Victoria High School. He illustrated his address with a series of slides.

Refuse Request to Open Gas Stations

Hugh Francis was refused permission by the Coal and Petroleum Board this week to open a gasoline station at the corner of Pioneer Street and Esquimalt Road.

The provincial government, by order-in-council, ratified the board's decision.

Eight other applications to start gasoline stations in various locations of the lower mainland were also refused and affirmed by order-in-council.

Total estimated hydro power potentialities of the Dominion of Canada are placed at 43,700,000 horsepower.

EMBARGO AND HYPOCRISY

To the Editor:—I attended with interest this week's meeting of the Victoria and District Embargo Council. In view of the fact that over 7,000 signatures have been collected locally to the petition for embargo, I take it a considerable section of the public will be interested in an incident I observed at this meeting.

Letters from trades unions, a veterans' organization, and a great number of C.C.F. clubs were read out. These had come in reply to the embargo council's request for support, and all heartily endorsed its work. I made a point of inquiry whether all political organizations had been contacted, and was informed that they had been, in common with all organizations in the city.
I feel that the great number of citizens who have endorsed the principle of an embargo on goods sent to aggressor nations will be interested in knowing that the C.C.F. clubs are the only organized political groups in the city who have immediately and without qualification endorsed the valuable work done by the council.

As to the official Liberal attitude on this question, I have in hand a letter from our M.P. at Ottawa, dated May 16. Along with other excuses for failure to apply embargoes, this states that materials of war are being shipped to China as well as to Japan. The thinking citizens outside the C.C.F., as well as those within it, will see that this in no way invalidates the arguments against shipping the materials of war to aggressor nations.

INTEREST IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

To the Editor:—M. W. Winsby quotes Mrs. Alice McGregor as having written: "There must be many ratepayers sufficiently interested in Victoria's welfare who are capable and willing to serve in making a good job of city management." I am fully in accord with his remarks. Mr.
Winsby states that he has "often wondered why a certain vivacious, hard-working little woman out for election to help make a good job of city management never polled a vote worth while."
If Mr. Winsby would learn, the opinion of a large number of voters it would be that Mrs. Mc-Gregor has endeavored to play a clean game politically and by sticking to facts and not by resorting to imagination and misstatements of fact and gossip.

That alone serves to confirm my opinion that Mr. Winsby has never taken an intelligent interest in Mrs. McGregor's letters.
If more citizens took as keen and intelligent an interest in the city's welfare as Mrs. McGregor, we would have a better understanding of the city affairs and they would be carried out in a more business-like way. Should Mrs.
McGregor favor the citizens by offering her services again for the council, she will receive a handsome vote, and her presence on the council would serve to grace it with advantage to the city of Victoria.

EXIT SATAN

To the Editor:—In the New Statesman and Nation there is an entertaining but deeply serious article, "Exit Satan." The writer had been led to the composition of his article through the remark of a seller of tracts, to whom a friend had remarked: "I'm glad to see Satan's kingdom's coming to an end." "Yes, lady," he assured her in sighing tones, "that's the cause of all the trouble that's going on in the world. You see Christ is coming to rule the earth, and Satan don't want to vacate."
The writer of the article says:
What an excellent explanation of all the troubles that have gone on in the world. There is a spirit of evil abroad that the majority of men would be glad to be rid of,
but Satan don't want to vacate.
The only thing we can be sur-about him is that he is an infernal nuisance and that he has more power over us at times than we have over ourselves. I am inclined to think that his real name is Ego. What a wonderful thing he had had on our planet and what a mess he has made of it!
How he must have enjoyed himself! It has not, unfortunately, been so pleasant for the rest of us. If the rumor that his kingdom is coming to an end is true, most of us will rejoice at the news. Even if he doesn't want to vacate, few of us will be sorry for him. He has had a long—a very long—innings."

DECLINE IN RELIGIOUS BELIEFS

To the Editor:—Today there is complete anarchy in the realm of values. There is no recognition of one supreme all inclusive end, as there must be if life is to have any meaning; but particular ends, such as wealth, power, pleasure, are each sought after without regard to their place in the whole

"Oomph" girl at work in "Naughty But Nice," now being shown at the Dominion Theatre. Need it be said that the girl is Ann Sheridan—and the boy Dick Powell.

of life. And this applies to the group life as well as that of the individual. All the sciences are pushed forward in a frantic effort to realize some of these ends, and when one thinks of the inventions of modern times, one is awestruck to think of the possibilities for evil and suffering that must result if such anarchy continues.

Religion supplies a conception of life which, if it could bind men's consciences and direct their conduct, would supply the harmony of particular ends which is required. This is certainly an argument for the truth of what is most fundamental in religion.
But this argument is not enough for spiritual progress. Personally I cannot understand the church's concern over a man because he takes a glass of beer, and its apathy over intellectual issues.

It would be foolish for anyone to assert that the Bible, either in the Old or New Testament, provides man with a complete guide to life, or that it attempts to do so. Everywhere, it presupposes the use of the human mind and human faculties. At most, it lays down certain general principles as to conduct, and gives us an insight into the nature of reality.
Christianity preaches the full life, and that conception is not complete if the things of the mind are left out of it.

It will be found that the religion of every man is surrounded with a fringe of his own making or choice. In the case of most men, this is a fantastic theosophy, the sort of thing that was prevalent in St. Paul's own time, and which St. Paul treats with contempt. But St. Paul himself is a philosopher, a psychologist, and reasons more like Plato and Aristotle than do the theosophists and popular philosophers who succeeded them.

Is the church carrying on the work of St. Paul in his conflict with the false or inadequate philosophy? In modern times, philosophy has been left more and more to the secular universities, which are subject to the trend of the times, and more concerned with turning out engineers, doctors, lawyers, electri-cians, architects and business men, than in studying life and reality, and yet without spiritual direction the professions may but add to the anarchy with which we are afflicted. Only the Roman Catholic church has kept up the church's interest in philosophy.

The work of the church may be that of propagating right beliefs, or faith, but its leaders cannot be indifferent to the harmful effects of popular and inadequate philosophy. For this reason, it cannot neglect higher education.
It must be critical of the work
the state does in this respect.
It must be interested in the spread of truth, not merely within its own buildings and among its own adherents, but everywhere and among all men.
Unless it assumes this task, its own work, which it claims to be based on truth, must fail, and with the breakdown of civilization it too will be destroyed.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1939

Benefic aspects rule today, according to astrology. Adverse planetary influences are active, but can be overcome. The morning is auspicious for persons in authority. Under this configuration government officials may gain greatly in the confidence of the people, who will desire leadership in important issues. Young men will be recognized as they prove their ability. There is a good sign for buying and selling. The rule of the stars encourages development and expansion of business enterprises. Merchants and manufacturers should profit. Women today are subject to unfavorable direction of the stars. Week-end plans may change and domestic problems may arise. The wise will maintain mental poise, despite household difficulties. This will not be a propitious way for romance. Even well-advanced courtships may be abandoned and marriage engagements broken. Young men are likely to be affected by practical considerations regarding possible economic responsibilities. This is a lucky day for inspecting new buildings and for planning houses. Country sites will appeal strongly. Small towns will benefit. Television comes under a rule of the stars that promises the elimination of many obstacles to its general introduction in American homes. Actors and writers are to profit next year through its use. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of even fortunes and steady advancement. Financial ambitions may be partially realized by both men and women. Children born on this day probably will be of serious nature and strong character. Many of these subjects of Cancer have extraordinary mentality. They attain success in exciting vocations. Market for Cedar LONDON (CP)—Camps built of Canadian cedar, to be used for schools in peacetime and as refugee shelters in wartime, are under construction in England and Wales. Pretoria 'Minting' Small Arms Supplies

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—World-wide rearmament has meant more business for the Royal Mint at Pretoria. It hasn't stepped up its output of coins. But its deputy director, J. T. Becklake, has just revealed that since last year it has produced nearly 11,000,000 small arms cartridges. He added South Africa had become independent of overseas supplies as far as small arms ammunition was concerned.

Emperor Penguins

About 20 years ago I heard a talk by an explorer who had visited the Antarctic regions. He had brought back moving pictures, and showed them during his lecture.

An emperor penguin.

I thought the most interesting parts of the pictures were those which showed emperor penguins in their native home. These birds are the largest members of the penguin family, and are found in and around South Victoria Land, which belongs to the Antarctic continent.

Penguins have been compared to "little men in dress suits." They stand upright and walk—or waddle around.

The emperor penguin sometimes grows to a height of three and a half feet. It spends all its life in the water or on the ice-covered "land."

In the water, the penguin dives for fish. It is an excellent diver, and as time goes on it grows fat. By and by, it swims to the icy shore. There it molts some of its feathers.

Going back to sea, the penguin finds more food, and becomes fat again. Later, in the breeding season, it spends a month or more on the land, taking little or no food.

Oddly enough, the breeding season of the emperor penguin comes in the middle of the Antarctic winter. The cold winter months down there come at the same time as our summer.

The female lays only one or two eggs in her nest, which is a shallow "hole," more or less lined with pebbles. It is a wonder how she is able to keep even one egg warm enough to hatch. The temperature needed for eggs of these birds is about 78 degrees above zero Fahrenheit. What a difference from the temperature of the air, which is often 40 degrees or more below zero!

The secret is that the female always covers the egg, or pair of eggs, with her soft and plentiful breast feathers. The eggs rest on the top of the bird's feet, and that also helps keep them warm.

In the breeding season, the penguins gather in large colonies. The death rate among the young is high.

Parents who lose their little ones seem to go on kidnapping trips. They try to find a baby penguin of another family which has been left unguarded. Often there are fights which shall take care of certain baby birds.

Like the king penguins and other kinds of penguins, these birds of South Victoria Land are not able to fly. Their wings are simply flippers, which are useful in swimming and diving but which have no power to lift their owners into the air.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"All right! I'll match you Uncle Charlie for your Aunt Jessie and call the relative score even."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a boy of 20, in love with a girl of 16, and we want to get married. I am going away to camp with the National Guard for 15 days and I'll get $15 for that. Then I'll get my social security money, that will be $5 a week for three weeks. I am trying very hard to get any kind of a job so we will be able to get by, but we are going to get married whether I have a job or not. Do you think we will be doing right? At present I am living with my mother and two brothers. My mother is working and making $8 a week, but my brothers haven't worked for quite a while. This is from

AN UNDECIDED BOY.

Answer: I know, son, that when one is 20 one has the impatience of a child, and, as the old song says, "wants what he wants when he wants it." He has not learned patience nor how to wait and work for the thing he desires in order that he may have it in perfection and in a way that will bring him happiness. He must have it at once, and so he snatches at what he wants, even though it will bring disaster upon him.

That is the way you are acting about this marriage. You know that there is every reason in the world why you and the girl should not marry now. She is only 16, far too young to marry. So are you for that matter. Neither one of you is old enough to know what real love means or what you will want in a wife or husband when you grow up. And the chances are that if you marry now you will be divorced before you are 30.

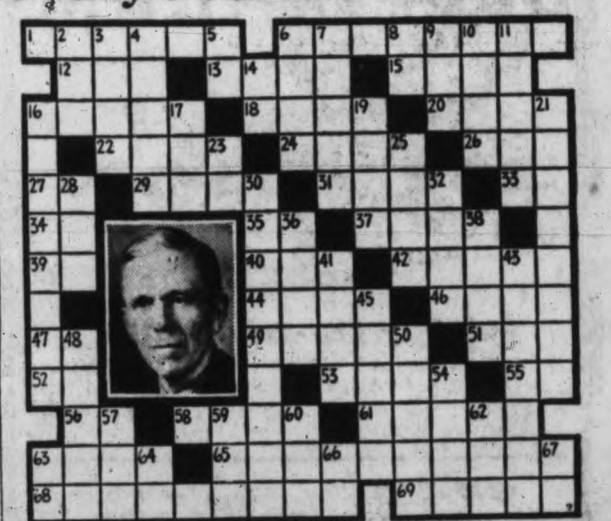

And divorce is always a mess, particularly if there are little children whose lives are ruined by having their homes torn down over their defenceless little heads.

Then you have nothing to marry on. You have no money, no job, no certainty of steady work. You have no way of supporting a family. Believe me, son, no man knows what trouble is until he sees his wife and children with no roof to shelter them, no fire to warm them, no food to eat. No agony can stab a man to the soul like the wail of a hungry baby crying for the milk his father cannot buy him.

Certainly you wouldn't add to the burden of your poor mother, who is already toiling to support two other idle sons, by dumping your wife down on her to feed. Certainly you have too much manhood about you to marry expecting the government to permanently support you and your family.

DOROTHY DIX.

(B.C.'S) GOOD ROADS

To the Editor:—As a tourist on your island for a few weeks, I was very interested to read your city's publicity manager's account of the good roads in the Cariboo district.

I am anxious to see Vancouver Island and from my first experience of the roads in the immediate locality—within the 20-mile circle, I would suggest that this gentleman take a tour of the island roads and at least use his influence in having these brought in to shape to allow those tourists who have come on special publicity invitation to see Vancouver Island. Roads so far used are in deplorable condition and do not reflect credit to any publicity bureau.

CRAIGFLOWER SCHOOL ISSUE

To the Editor:—If the interest manifested by Mrs. Winifred Johnston and Miss Amy Stewart had been expressed at any of the several public meetings held at Craigflower School for the express purpose of discussing the school situation, some solution might have been arrived at.

Apparently the majority of rate-payers and taxpayers who were interested enough to attend these meetings were not of the same opinion. The official trustee for this district has advocated that the pupils of this rural school area continue to attend the Craigflower School for another term under the existing conditions.

In view of the fact that the majority of the taxpayers in this area are the owners of improved property and will not benefit by the taxation for school purposes as applied under the rural school act, which is primarily to benefit a farming area, it would seem advisable therefore to stay with the form of taxation as applied by the Saanich municipality, which materially benefits the owners of improved property.

As the improved property in this area is rapidly increasing, we fall to see how the plan suggested by Miss Stewart and Mrs. Johnston is economically advantageous to the district at large.

W. A. NOEL,
President, Craigflower Rate-payers' Association.

Washington Shot Wins Aggregate

P. M. Chapman Tops All-comers at Police Revolver Meet

P. M. Chapman, Oroville, Wash., of the United States Customs Patrol and Constable Edwin G. Sturrock, of the Victoria police, were major individual winners of the annual city police revolver meet, which concluded at the Thetis Lake range yesterday.

Chapman won the grand aggregate award for the twoday meet by winning first place in the pocket revolver match, the .38 calibre event open to all comers, the event for U.S. visitors and the .22 calibre match open to all comers. Constable Sturrock topped the event for Victoria city police and led the local team in winning second place in the event for B.C. Police departments.

The shoot was brought to a close with a banquet at the Douglas Hotel last night, followed by a dance in the police recreation hall on the top floor at headquarters. The dinner was presided over by Chief J. A. McLellan and several speakers were heard, all of whom warmly praised the meet as one of the finest ever held.

Mayor McGavin welcomed the visitors and hoped they had enjoyed their stay in the city. He praised the committee in charge of the shoot for its splendid work, but suggested there should be competitions next year in which moving targets were used.

Alderman Ed. Williams, police commissioner, also congratulated the committee, and spoke of the fine work done this year to put the revolver range in better condition.

The remarks of the Mayor and Alderman Williams, were endorsed by Alderman Archie Wills, police commissioner, who also spoke appreciatively of the interest of Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons of the B.C. Police in the shoot as evidenced by the fact that men of that department were brought from as far as Fort St. John to compete.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor and supervisor of the small arms, who acted as range officer for the meet, expressed appreciation to all those who had competed; John S. Amer, Seattle, for his valuable assistance and members of the navy who assisted with work at the range, noting the co-operation of all had made the shoot a success.

Tillman of Multnomah County, Oregon; M. J. Archambeau of the U.S. Coast-guard Patrol, and Sergt. Bob Taylor Moves

PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—Robert Taylor was living in a 100-year-old shack, so his fellow Indians built him a new hut on the Curve Lake reserve. Robert is a 72-year-old redskin—not a movie star.

CORRECTION! I'M AN 8-TIME BRIDE—In a roundup on much-married women, 44-year-old Maude McBee Sayles, above, of Council Bluffs, Ia., was credited with five husbands. Maude says this is an error, for she took Bill Sayles as eighth mate in July, 1938, boasting to judge that she could "handle any husband."

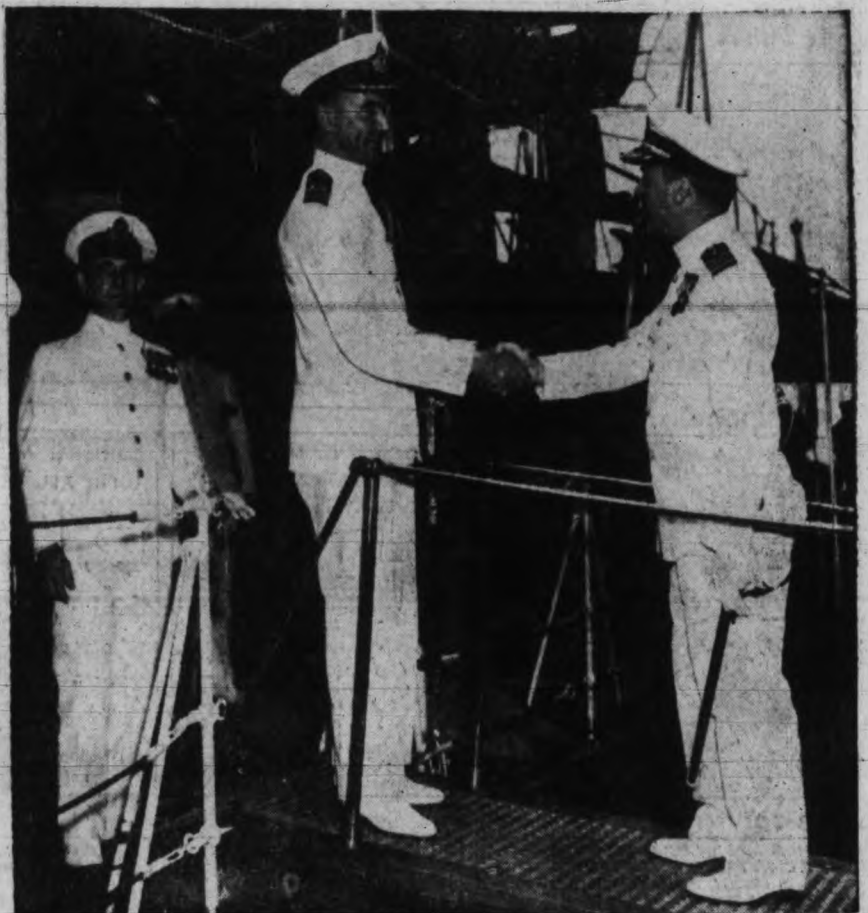

MADE ROYAL VISIT PROFITABLE—It was a rare stroke of luck for Ted Underhill, sophomore at the University of British Columbia, when the procession of the King and Queen in Vancouver was routed past his home. With his camera Ted secured a picture—like thousands of other Canadians—as Their Majesties passed by, but no ordinary snap was his. A month after the big event Ted had sold more than 30,000 copies of it, made about $1,200, and turned the Underhill homestead upside down making room for his developing and drying processes. The lucky young man is shown above, as is the picture he secured, which has what the photographer says is possibly a special smile from the King in it to distinguish it from many others.

HONOR DOMINION WITH 'CANADA'S DAY' AT N.Y. WORLD'S FAIR—While the Dominion celebrated the 72nd anniversary of Confederation fitting recognition of this country's growth was given by the New York World's Fair which designated July 1 as "Canada's Day" and carried the maple leaf theme throughout all fair activities. Here are some of the highlights of the event. Top left shows sailors from the Canadian destroyers Skeena and Saguenay, drawn up as a guard of honor as Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce, arrives at the Canadian pavilion with Fair President Grover Whalen; at the right, Mr. Euler is delivering his address at ceremonies marking official opening of the Dominion's building. Hon. Alfonse Raymond, officially representing the government of Quebec, looks over the massive diorama Quebec exhibit, with Godfrey Haggard, at lower left. Centre, shows scarlet-coated riders of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police thrilling the fair crowds with their intricate musical ride and other mounted drills, in the Court of Peace. At lower right, is another picture of Mr. Euler as he stressed Canada-United States amity in his address.

NAZI NOW—Kurt Schuschnigg Jr., above, 13-year-old son of Austria's last Chancellor, is reported to have joined the Hitler Youth, juvenile Nazi organization, in Vienna.

CANADIAN DESTROYERS AT NEW YORK—Commander J. J. Hughes of the U.S. Navy steps aboard H.M.C.S. Skeena, extending the hand of welcome to Commander J. T. W. Grant when the Canadian destroyer tied up at New York for a courtesy visit to the World's Fair. The Saguenay is also visiting New York.

NAZIS WARNED BY POLISH AIRMEN—Carrying a huge banner declaring "Danzig will be Polish," a company of military aviators in complete flying kit march in the huge procession in Warsaw, marking the celebration of Poland's "Sea Week." In a radio speech, President Moscicki stressed the importance of a Polish seaport while throughout the country speakers and banners voiced Poland's resolution to defend Danzig and Gdynia, the nation's only seaports, from Nazi annexation.
